

Brickell Flatiron

Developed by Ugo Colombo and designed by Luis Revuelta, Brickell Flatiron stands out as a urban oasis. It will rise 750 feet above the ground, with 65 levels of pure luxury. Brickell Flatiron will be one of the tallest buildings in Miami. It will be defined by sweeping exposures and persuasive curves. The corner of Brickell Plaza and South Miami Avenue, heart of Brickell, is the chosen area for this astonishing construction. It is situated within a walking distance of Mary Brickell Village and Brickel City Centre, thus offering residents with an unparalleled urban experience, with a wide offer of commerce, culture and night life, all in the same area.
