

You can't go wrong with Pac Pride's warehousing and distribution services. This company is the epitome of customer service, and right along with that is the value they offer. If you want unparalleled on-time delivery performance, exceptional special handling, and always the most courteous customer service in the industry, this is the company to use.

Sutti Associates may be a small company but whenever we work with Pac Pride Distribution we feel like we're the most important client they have. Whether it's one crate or a dozen super large ones, your freight will be handled with the utmost care and concern. For more than 12 years, Dan Elser and his team have been our 'go to' partner for warehousing and distribution.

I've been working with Dan and Pac Pride for over 11 years now and can say this company thrives on servicing their customer. Time and time again, Dan and his crew have come thru for me and even on occasion, Dan himself would show up driving the truck! Their attention to on time deliveries and just as important, taking care of our freight, makes them a valuable vendor partner to our Region.
