

London-Wilcox, Sandra

Mrs. Sandra London-Wilcox, 64, of Harbor Beach passed away Friday, May 8, 2009 at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw after a fall in her home.

She was born in Ann Arbor Nov. 23, 1944 to Jack and Florence London.

Introduced by friends, Sandra and Harold "Butchie" Wilcox enjoyed each other's company so much, they married June 8, 1984, and this year would have been their 25th wedding anniversary. A life-long homemaker, she was a voracious reader, collected porcelain dolls, loved a good yard sale, cooking for an "army" when the chance came up, enjoyed spending time with friends and family and of course, playing with her dog, Buddy. She especially loved her relationship with her neighbor and close friend, Adam. He always made her smile with a wave of his hand or a handmade card just for her.

The highlight in her life this year was finding several family members she had not seen in over 46 years and spending a lovely afternoon with a handful of them just a few months ago. During the visit, she learned she had over 300 new family members and was looking forward to seeing them all at their annual family reunion this year.

She is survived by her husband, Butchie Wilcox of Harbor Beach, her son, Richard London of Los Angeles, Calif., her grandchildren, Michael and Jessica London and a daughter, Suzanne.

A member of Lighthouse Assembly of God, she enjoyed the friendships she made and kind letters from which were sent to her throughout her illness and the family is grateful for their support at this time. A memorial will be conducted at Lighthouse Assembly of God, at 11 a.m. May 12, 2009.
