Title Proves God Is the Same Today, Yesterday, and Forever Author expounds on Scripture in a unique way—through rhyme

LONGWOOD, FL—Fresh from the mind of author Denise Jeter comes a book that takes a unique look at some of the Bible's spiritual truths. In the author's new release, Apples of Gold: A Devotional in Rhyme ($20.99, paperback, 978-1-61579-135-4), she expounds on Scripture in an entirely new way—through rhyme. Many of the truths contained in this book have the power to break bondages and strongholds that readers may have been struggling with for years—and many of them will cause readers to see Satan's tricks before they fall victim to them. The book will prove to readers that God is indeed the same yesterday, today, and forever.

Says Jeter, “[I want readers to know] that the letter killeth and the spirit maketh alive. God can and will speak to them through Scripture for their everyday life and struggles. I teach in rhyme the things I have learned through my mistakes, my fastings, my deep seeking of the Lord, and my very hard trials.”

Jeter, who grew up outside Houston, never knew who Jesus was or the extent of what He could do until the age of 33, when she met Him in a prayer of desperation. From that point on, He took her on a journey of spiritual warfare and a discovery of truth that she would not have believed possible had it not happened to her. It wasn't easy, however; after coming to the Lord, she fasted, fought, and prayed her way through the spiritual warfare she was thrust into at the time she was saved. These experiences inspired her to speak the truth in love through her writing by helping others grappling with these same issues to look to God to deliver them from trials and tribulations.
