

Welcome to Landscape Design School

National Garden Clubs, Inc. offers Environmental, Gardening, and Landscape Design Schools which provide continuing education about the land, water, air, and earth on which we live, the field of horticulture, and focusing on recognizing and practicing good land use. Course content is established by National Garden Clubs, Inc. (NGC). Four sequenced courses (1 through 4) comprise a series for each of the three schools. Courses may be taken in any order. Each course consists of ten hours of instruction, which may include field trips and tours to related locations. Optional open book/open note exams are offered for those wishing to become NGC Accredited Environmental, Gardening, or Landscape Design Consultants. After passing two courses a student becomes a Provisional Consultant and may join a Consultants Council, a group that provides programs and tours that further the education of its members. Those garden club members completing all four courses receive a Consultant Certification Card, which is recognized as a special achievement among NGC members but does not convey professional status. Those who have become NGC Consultants are eligible to judge contests and displays as representatives of the Environmental, Gardening, and Landscape Design Schools programs in events participated in by councils and clubs.

Out-of-state students are welcome. Their records will be sent to their home state Landscape Design Schools Chair.

All students are required to read The National Gardener, available on the NGC website. The text for the entire series of Landscape Design School, Courses I – IV, is Stewards of the Land: A Survey of Landscape Architecture and Design in America, published by National Garden Clubs, Inc., 314 776-7574. Required reading for Course 2: Chapters 3, 5, 11, 20, 23,35. Chapter numbers are indicated on this brochure after the lecture titles.
