

LODGING

Lodging options in and around Port Angeles are many and varied. Possibilities run the gamut from older, budget motels starting at $69 to name brand and fancier hotels at $300. B&B's, some of which can also be pricey are numerous. Multi-person cabins are available right in the park as are tented campgrounds. Several RV parks can be found nearby. It appears that there is something for everyone ... use the internet to find your perfect place to stay.

The only caveat is, the Olympic Peninsula is very popular with outdoor enthusiasts of all kinds and it can be very busy in June.

Early booking is strongly advised.
