DESCRIPTION: Locksley was a mid-range Ben Pearson bow line that was marketed mostly to England and other European countries in the 1960s. This Locksley Lion reminds me of a super-charged Pearson Cougar. It is more substantial than the Cougar, and featured tip overlays. Green glass on the face, and red glass on the back. Comfortable pistol grip. Great looking and performing re-curve in excellent condition. Bow has no delamination; no cracks; limbs are straight. Overlays and tips are in great condition. No drilled holes; No chips, dings or cracks. No stress lines or crazing. There is one faint superficial line running under the logo. I can't feel any separation with my fingernail. It may be a light stress line or just a scratch in the glass (see pic on last page). A few minor scratches and nicks here and there. Decal is in excellent condition.
