

Higher Consciousness:

There is no separation and man must come to realise this very important piece of information. All is but an illusion.

19 July 2006

Greetings Beloved,
It is a pleasure to have you back with us this day to continue our journey.

It is precipitated that many will arise from the ashes but this would necessitate great human development for this to occur, understand. It is indeed possible but not at this time on your plane as many lack the understanding thereof.

It is a great disappointment to see man at this current time not accessing his birthright understand. It is indeed a troublesome era to be working in with much depression and negativity.

However man can if he so desires rise above this into a glorious world above. The next dimension is not weighted down with such negative energy and one is indeed able to relish in a more uplifting vibration, understand.

We would ask at this time for the Christ energy to be focussed on the upliftment of this universe.

It is indeed possible to change one's consciousness through greater understanding of the Truth. Many light years have gone into the decline on this plane of existence at this time.

It is indeed disappointing that man has chosen the ego over the Christ. It would hasten mankind's deliverance if he would only stop to listen, understand.

It is indeed a bright light shining bright this day surrounding thy work in progress. It will indeed create a new era to begin exploring, understand.

To those of you whom are experiencing a rush go, go in your life at this time we say this is necessary to speed up the evolution of mankind at this time.

It is no use procrastinating, it must be applied, understand. Man has indeed delved into darkness by limiting his thinking and application of the Truth. Man will eventually escape this plane but not before he has earned it, understand.

It is indeed a dismal time for many who choose to ignore the Truth at this time.

One must come to the realisation that the Truth will indeed set one free.

We leave in Love and Light.
God Bless!
