

Indianapolis Divorce Lawyers

Persons contemplating divorce all too often allow their emotions to take over. At this critical point in their lives, they need clear-headed thinking and sound legal advice.

At Ruppert & Schaefer, P.C., we help people through this difficult period in their lives, by helping them make the right decisions about their futures.

Our firm advises and represents clients in all aspects of marital dissolution and related matters, including:

- Divorce
- Child custody and parenting time
- Property distribution
- Child support
- Spousal maintenance
- And others

A Comprehensive Plan for Your Future

We know that your situation is unique to you and you alone. We will develop a comprehensive plan to help you achieve your objectives and move into the future on a positive basis.

We start by educating you about Indiana law and the divorce process. We inform you of what to expect during and after the process, and the risks of the process as well. Working closely with you, we will identify your goals for the future and your hopes for your children's future. We will then work to achieve those goals while protecting your rights at all times.

Simple to Complex Property Division

While a divorce involves intense emotions, it has important financial implications as well. We pay close attention to the property division aspects of a divorce. Our goal is to put you and your children in the best position possible.

We have successfully represented clients with marital estates of all sizes, but have particular experience in cases involving complex assets and family-owned businesses.

Helping Clients Move Into the Future

At Ruppert & Schaefer, P.C., we believe that divorce is about the future, not the past. Our goal in every case is to help our clients make a successful transition to the next stage of their lives. With sound advice and experienced counsel, you can move forward with hope and expectation.
