Lynam Chapter Brings Fun to the Lighthouse Arts & Crafts Festival

History and genealogy enthusiasts and other members of general public received a warm welcome and fun information from several members of the Mississippi Society Sons of the American Revolution. On Friday and Saturday, at the Annual Gulf Coast Historical and Cultural Expo at Biloxi Visitor's Center in conjunction with the Lighthouse Arts & Crafts Festival, several members of the Lynam Chapter distributed the new state brochures promoting MSSAR and the SAR Eagle Scout/Youth Programs, as well information on the Jamestowne Society and the Mississippi Society War of 1812. Members from the Horger Chapter in Laurel traveled to the event and circulated in the crowd in period uniforms talking with attendees. The society's well-placed booth provided inquiring attendees with instant internet access to genealogy databases. Although the Society was the only hereditary organization present, we were in excellent company with several organizations including Mississippi Department of Archives & History, Mississippi Historical Society, D'Iberville Historical Society, Historical Society of Gulfport, Ocean Springs Genealogical Society, Beauvoir, The Jefferson Davis Home and Presidential Library, Mississippi Aviation Heritage Museum, and the Maritime & Seafood Industry Museum.
