

THE ALMANAC
OF AMERICAN EDUCATION
2008

EDITED BY DEIRDRE A. GAQUIN AND KATHERINE A. DEBRANDT

The Almanac of American Education, 2008

Item No. BP2698
November 2008, 540 pages, Paperback
ISBN: 978-1-59888-269-8, $75.00

Published by Bernan Press

"Educators and researchers alike will find the format convenient and the scope exhaustive."

—CHOICE

"The book is a good reference source, particularly useful for state and county data."

—American Reference
Books Annual

The Almanac of American Education helps users understand and compare the quality of education at the national, state, and county levels. Compiled from official U.S. government and reliable private sources, the book contains historical and current data, insightful analysis, and useful graphs that provide compelling insights into the state of education in America.

National coverage includes information on the percentage of school enrollment and educational attainment, looking at American education from a variety of different angles, including percentage of high school and college graduates in the population, enrollment status by age and level of school, dropout rates, and number of college attendees. Attainment levels are presented by race, occupation, and industry and cover both high school and college.

State-level statistics include

- average SAT and ACT scores
- per-student expenditures
- private and public school enrollment
- student poverty
- public school teacher salaries
- teacher characteristics
- regional comparative data

County-level statistics include information on student/teacher ratios; free lunch eligibility; numbers of students and graduates; attainment levels; per-student expenditures; and dropout rates.

The appendix to this title functions as a guide to education resources on the Internet. It provides site descriptions and evaluations along with URLs, giving users the information they need to go directly to the sites that will be of greatest use to them.

To order this book, use the enclosed order form,
call 1.800.865.3457, or order online at www.bernan.com.

 Bernan Press