From the Minister's Mac

“Balance”

As I write this on Groundhog Day, I can't help thinking about that crazy movie. You know the one, where Bill Murray plays an egotistical and not-very-nice weatherman who goes to Punxsutawney for the Groundhog Festival and for some inexplicable reason, lives the same day over and over again.

If you had one day to live over, what day would it be? Winning the track meet? Graduation? Going to your favorite concert? Meeting the love of your life? Your wedding day? Your promotion day? The birth of your first child? Your first grandchild?

Or would it be the day you came to Jesus? Would it be that moment you gave control of your life to God? Would it be when the Holy Spirit descended on you and showed you the path for your life? Or maybe the day you started down that path, or overcame obstacles on it?

Brian and I spent a wonderful day at the beach a few years ago, a peaceful, restful glorious, sunny day, where we thanked God for the marvel of creation and our ability to enjoy it. I wouldn't mind having another day like that, but I wouldn't want to spend the rest of eternity sitting in my beach chair, listening to the sea gulls squawking, however perfect the company was.

Balance. We need balance. Do you have balance in your life? Can you not only think of a few days that have been such a blessing to you that you wouldn't mind reliving them, but also see yourself finding new days of pure joy? Can you include some of your work or volunteer days as relivable blessings?

Sometimes balance is elusive and we have to seek it, even create it. Then there are the days we simply have to trust God for it, for it is surely part of God's plan for a healthy community. May you find balance in your days, and may you thank God for it!

See you in church,
Lin

MONDAY NIGHT LENTEN STUDY

A Four-Week Study via Zoom

“GIFTED & TALENTED:

Discover and Use Your Spiritual Gifts”

3/2, 3/9, 3/16, 3/23 at 7:00 PM

Using Rev. Jeremy Scott's book, "Gifted & Talented: Discover and Use Your Spiritual Gifts," we will explore using the gifts we know we possess and developing gifts we might not have discovered yet! This study is based on Scripture and includes an AI Gifts Assessment of your Spiritual Gifts. See Rev. Lin to sign up and get a book.

3/2 Lenten Study Week One — You have a part to play!

In Romans 12:1-13, Paul encourages believers to use their gifts. He also warns, "don't think of yourself more highly than you ought," but Rev. Scott suggests, "our modern problem is often the opposite: we think too little of ourselves and our gifts. We are all gifted. The first step is to recognize and name those gifts."

3/9 Lenten Study Week Two — The Speaking Gifts

In 1 Corinthians 14:1-12, Paul is providing space and opportunity for people to grow and share their gifts. This week, we explore the gifts of Prophecy, Teaching, and Exhorting and Look at practical ways we build up, clarify, and challenge one another in daily life.

3/16 Lenten Study Week Three — The Action Gifts

In the Gospel of John, Chapter 13:12-20, Jesus demonstrates the power of servant Leadership. This week we explore the gifts of Serving, Giving and Leading, and discuss how they are expressed through simple kindness, practical generosity, and servant-hearted Influence.

3/23 Lenten Study Week Four — The Heart and the How

In the Gospel of John, Chapter 8:1-11, Jesus stops a stoning and, perhaps more miraculously for his time, does not condemn the woman awaiting her fate. This week, we explore the core gift of Mercy as the choice for reconciliation over retribution, and to synthesize the entire book's content into a practical, actionable plan for living out our gifts in every area of life.
