CORONADO HILLS/CREEKSIDE NEIGHBORHOOD ASSOCIATION to ensure the safety of residents—to preserve the integrity of the neighborhood—to increase the value of homeowner property

A Qualified WIN for our Neighborhood Plan

On June 11, 2015, Austin City Council voted to indefinitely postpone an applicant request to rezone and change our Neighborhood Plan zoning for a plot of land near 183/290 highways. Hundreds of us spent over three years carefully planning our future land use for our neighborhood, then voting to oppose the rezoning at numerous meetings beginning 2014 through 2015.

It is gratifying to see that we have a say in protecting the integrity of our plan.

The proposed amendment would have allowed housing units in an extremely dangerous intersection, living with noise, highway pollution, and unsafe entry and exit from the properties among many other problems.

Our urban core neighborhoods are under attack by developers eager to make money at the expense of neighborhoods—teardowns of existing houses to build monstrosities, investors buying properties to warehouse vulnerable adults, or use as short-term rentals. This leaves neighborhoods permanently damaged. This is OUR neighborhood!

Let's be vigilant in protecting our lovely neighborhood and our property investments for ourselves and future Coronado residents.

Fun Request

Some neighbors have requested a Neighborhood Block Party/Picnic later this summer. It sounds like a fun way to meet and get to know each other. Let your officers know if you would like one and if you might be able to help out.

From the meeting last week, changes will be made at I-35 and 183 and on I-35 from Rundburg to 290 that will have a BIG impact on our traffic! They plan to take down and rebuild the fly-over from I-35 to 183 along with other work on I-35. It will be a bigger mess as people use alternate routes. Attend the fall meeting to listen to TXDOT detail this major construction.

Imagine Austin Speaker Series: Turning Panic and Apathy into Proactive and Sustainable Solutions.

Breaking the Traditional Cycle of Water Planning in Our Region.

Please join us for an upcoming Imagine Austin Speaker Series panel discussion featuring Greg Meszaros, the Director of Austin Water Utility, and another guest panelist, where they'll answer questions addressing climate change and water planning. Greg Meszaros is responsible for Austin Water's $509 million budget, 1,085 plus employees and a $840 million 5-year Capital Improvement Plan.

The Imagine Austin Speaker Series are talks held several times a year and feature nationally and locally known experts in the fields of land use, transportation, development, the economy, the built and natural environment, social equity and sustainability to promote and implement the Imagine Austin Comprehensive Plan. This event is hosted by the City of Austin's Planning & Zoning Department, and Austin Water Utility.

Discussion topics of this panel will include:

- What do recent rains mean for the drought? How will climate change affect our region?
- What are Austin Water and LCRA doing to preserve our water resources?
- Austin and Central Texas are booming. Is there enough water for everyone? How about in 25 years when our population is expected to double?

Light refreshments will be served. There is plenty of parking but we strongly encourage you to consider taking CapMetro. A bus stop is located at the corner of Rosewood Avenue and Angelina Street.
