

Green Build Boot Camp[®] at Messer headquarters in Cincinnati

It's time to move your small business into the future. Lean construction is used on 100% of Messer's projects. ACF Enterprises, LLC is partnering with Messer to provide basic training to help small and diverse companies compete in a changing construction environment. You will learn about lean tools and techniques to create a more efficient organization -- one that maximizes resources and minimizes waste. This basic training is a first step on your journey to make your business stronger and more capable. Green Build Boot Camp[®] is a short three-hour course with a workbook you can return to time and time again to stay on track.
