

"Practical Introduction to Technical Analysis"

Euromoney Institute, 1997

"What is a chart? A chart is a clear window to the traders' souls. You will get close to the truth when you study a chart.

Only in a chart will you see the killing fields of false breakouts or feel the fresh air of a major trend, fight the shifting sands of a poverty-inducing sideways move or soar on a formation that you identified ahead of the rest of the crowd.

On a chart you will see the blood in the street when the price spikes, and the enticing bull and bear traps." — Cornelius Luca
