“I was not prepared for Jubilee—not from Katy, not from anyone. This is a fine piece of writing on a subject Katy knows better than anyone else I've met: trust. Horses learn trust inside a round pen, but as Katy illustrates, so do people. In Jubilee she took me into the round pen, not with a whip, but with a story of love, searching, freedom, and fulfillment that is powerfully magnificent. PRESTON GILLHAM, Leadership Consultant at PrestonGillham.com and multi-published author

“Katy is a masterful storyteller who understands how to weave the divine seamlessly into a beautiful love story. I began the book with curiosity, then was so captivated that I raced through the middle of the book with wonder. By the end I had to slow down and savor every morsel of truth through watery eyes. My emotions ran the gamut from anger to pleasant surprise to pure delight. There were transcendent moments that caused me to be aware of how impactful this extraordinary book will be.”
