

(30)

The years have flown rapidly by. I am nearing 71 and Gladys will be sixty eight in October. ~~It~~ no one ~~knows~~ knows what the future holds but I'm sure God has it all planned out and things will go according to His will.

I hope I'm around to read this over twenty years from now, but might not be here to read it ten minutes from that. Many interesting things will happen in the future which I would enjoy to see but there will always be that threat of a nuclear war which could destroy everything. God knows all the answers and we ~~it~~ can find out from Him how things turned out in this old world after we get to the other side where time shall never end.