

Heavenly Father,

I agree and accept your Word as truth. Today, I willingly surrender my mind, my body, my soul, my emotions, and my spirit to the truth of Your Word. Today I chose to trust You and take You at Your Word.

You created me in an amazingly wonderful way. What you created in me is good. I choose to walk in this truth. You call me Your child. I choose to walk this truth. You love me with an everlasting love. I choose to walk in this truth.

You have declared me a person of value and worth and gave Your only begotten Son to redeem me. You have called me accepted and loved. I choose to walk in this truth.

Before the foundations of the world you chose to adopt me and called me Your child. I have been carefully created and to You alone I surrender my steps. I choose to walk in Your ways.

You have promised to supply all my needs according to Your riches and glory. I choose to trust you. You said you bless those who love You. Oh that You would bless me today. That You would enlarge my territory (emotions, mental abilities, physical strength and spiritual eyes). I ask, oh God, that You would keep me from all evil and that I would clearly hear Your voice.

I ask that my life would be a blessing unto You. In Jesus name I pray.
