

LINKS

We have not tried to be exhaustive in discussing these topics, or including all the issues that will arise when families face the life changes of placing a loved one in a nursing home. And for many families, providing care at home is the best option – a decision which also brings challenges. These links to the resources of others will help to further equip families to become strong advocates not only for their own family members but also for systems change in the field of long-term care, whether that care takes place in a nursing facility or with assistance in the home. We encourage you to explore these resources; and if you find others that we haven't included, please let us know at contact@ourmothersvoice.org so that we can add them to our compendium.

NEW ON Our Mother's Voice LINKS

A MESSAGE FROM OUR CEO:

The COVID-19 pandemic is decimating the long-term care population across the country. Because the situation is so fluid, Our Mother's Voice refers all inquiries for resources on this emerging crisis to the National Consumer Voice for Quality Long-Term Care for the most up-to-date information as well as information chronicling the brief and alarming history around this crisis.

<https://theconsumervoice.org/issues/other-issues-and-resources/covid-19>

Dr. Macie Smith, a South Carolina expert on dementia and caregiver issues, has published a downloadable training video for families, caregivers, and staff on the topic of dealing with some of the challenging behaviors that dementia often brings:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=r5hNwIOL6Eo&feature=youtu.be>

Dr. Smith also presents a down-home and practical approach to understanding dementia:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BhZpZSFZgNU&t=1629s>

A Federal Court has ruled that patients on "observation status" who are subsequently denied Medicare coverage of long-term care services have the right to appeal.

Justice In Aging has prepared a press release announcing this "win":

<https://www.justiceinaging.org/medicare-patients-placed-under-observation-status-win-right-to-appeal-federal-court-orders/>

Changes in Medicare payment processes DO NOT change eligibility and coverage for skilled therapies, although they do provide incentives for providers to change their practices – and not in the interest of consumers. For details of this issue:

<https://www.medicareadvocacy.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/Issue-Brief.-Medicare-Payment-vs.-Coverage.pdf?emci=7ea1b69b-865d-ea11-a94c-00155d039e74&emdi=b7eb2fbd-895d-ea11-a94c-00155d039e74&ceid=4142979>

Medicare payment processes for Home Health services have also changed, but eligibility and coverage for Home Health services have not changed; as this fact sheet from CMS confirms:

The Long Term Care Community Coalition (LTCCC) has published a report on nursing home ownership which identifies promising practices among states for evaluating nursing home owners for state licensure and provides essential principles for improving accountability and integrity in the licensure process. The report can be accessed at:

<https://nursinghome411.org/evaluating-nursing-home-owners/?emci=fe9c7c69-c45f-ea11-a94c-00155d03b5dd&emdi=0d5d5383-1762-ea11-a94c-00155d03b5dd&ceid=2300713>

Consumers can speak out in support of these measures by writing to their representatives via the LTCCC's Action Center: https://secure.everyaction.com/Y0f9xL5M5Uul\_UUS3fgp0g2

The National Center on Law and Elder Rights has a collection of resources available to assist those dealing with elder abuse:

<https://ncler.acl.gov/ElderJustice-Toolkit/About-Elder-Justice-Toolkit.aspx>

Teepa Snow is a well-known teacher and advocate for positive approaches to care for people with dementia and other cognitive challenges. A myriad of resources and contact information are available on her web site:

<https://www.teepasnow.com>

The National Center for State Courts, with the assistance of the American Bar Association Commission on Law and Aging, have created a training designed to assist individuals in exploring ways to help someone who may need assistance in making decisions with informal supports, legal options, and/or adult guardianship:

<https://trea.usc.edu/resource/finding-the-right-fit-decision-making-supports-and-guardianship-2/>

Human Rights Watch released a guide about nursing facility residents' rights concerning medication in easy-to-read formats, available as an electronic or print leaflet and as a video here:

<https://www.hrw.org/news/2020/07/09/us-nursing-home-residents-should-know-their-rights>

Regulations

Nursing Home

For the text of the Nursing Home Reform Law of 1987, which is the basis for Medicare and Medicaid regulations governing care and services in nursing facilities:

<http://www.law.cornell.edu/uscode/text/42/1395i-3>

and for a summary of this bill prepared by Hollis Turnham, Esquire, which explains the major provisions of the law:

<http://www.allhealth.org/briefingmaterials/OBRA87Summary-984.pdf>

To learn the federal requirements for quality of care and quality of life in nursing homes which accept Medicare or Medicaid funding, as defined in the Code of Federal Regulations for Nursing Facilities, 42CFR483 Subpart B:

The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services has released updated federal regulations governing nursing facilities, which will be phased in over a 3-year period.

The new Revised Regulations for Long-Term Care Facilities (nursing homes) are now published as a single document available online:

https://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-

idx?SID=f64b6edcc2b2ee52bf5de8e19a340569&mc=true&node=sp42.5.483.b&rgn=div6#se42.5.483\_140

The Interpretive Guidance for surveyors, which further defines the intent of the new regulations, is available here:

For a version of the Guidance with a “clickable” Table of Contents to enable the reader to “jump” to any section rather than searching the entire 700-page document:

1. Click http://theconsumervoice.org/uploads/files/issues/Revised\_Interpretive\_Guidelines\_with\_Clickable\_TOC.pdf to download the Revised Interpretive Guidelines with the clickable Table of Contents.
2. Scroll down to page 2 of the document.
3. Move your mouse over the section you want to review (e.g. "Resident Rights," "Quality of Care," etc.). You should see your pointer mouse turn into a hand with a finger.

Click on the section you've selected. The document should immediately jump to that section of the Interpretive Guidelines.

The National Consumer Voice is publishing a series of informative briefs highlighting some of the changes, the first of which can be accessed here:

<http://theconsumervoice.org/uploads/files/actions-and-news-updates/A-guide-to-Revised-Nursing-Facility-Regulations.pdf>

For those who want a more in-depth review of the changes in the regulations, the following are two multi-page summaries of key changes:

Home & Community-Based Services

For information and resources regarding the new Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) settings rule and steps each state is making to comply with the new rule:

<http://hcbsadvocacy.org/>

The website features an Advocates Checklist which offers ideas and steps on how to get involved in a state's assessment and transition plan process, and the HCBS Worksheet for Assessing Services and Settings, which is intended to help State agencies, community members and other stakeholders in reviewing HCBS are currently provided in their states prior to submission of the State's transition plan.

For an interesting discussion of the pros and cons of a new Medicaid rule requiring more individualized care planning in home-like community-based settings as alternatives to nursing homes for services for people with disabilities and the elderly:

<http://www.pewtrusts.org/en/research-and-analysis/blogs/stateline/2014/11/19/new-medicaid-rule-could-challenge-state-shift-away-from-nursing-homes>

For a report on how the states are performing in their compliance with federal regulations requiring Person-Centered Care Planning for Medicaid Home and Community-Based Service recipients:

Often families are told their loved one cannot be served in a community-based setting because of wandering or other challenging behaviors. The Center for Medicare and Medicaid services has published guidance for providers instructing them how they are to meet these needs within the federal regulations:

<https://www.medicaid.gov/federal-policy-guidance/downloads/faq121516.pdf>

The Center for Medicare Advocacy explains that home health aide services are often misrepresented and under-provided by home health agencies:

<https://www.medicareadvocacy.org/home-health-aide-coverage-continues-to-shrink-attention-must-be-paid/>

and offers a case study as an example of how to advocate for needed home health aide services:

Medicare must now pay for “maintenance” therapies and treatments, not just “improvement” therapies and treatments! (This has always been the standard and federal regulation, but historically Medicare has denied payment for these services.) Read about the court settlement and its implications:

<http://www.medicareadvocacy.org/2013/01/24/judge-approves-settlement-in-jimmo-vs-sebelius-after-court-hearing/>

If you have had a claim denied for “maintenance” therapies or treatments, here is a resource to appeal the denial of payment for:

Skilled nursing facility care therapies/treatments:

in-home care therapies/treatments:

<http://www.medicareadvocacy.org/2013/02/22/self-help-packet-for-expedited-home-health-care-appeals-including-improvement-standard-denials/>

The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) has issued a brief covering the Jimmo V. Sebelius settlement and its impact on payment for skilled therapy care in a variety of settings:

<https://www.medicareadvocacy.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/06/Jimmo-Improvement-Standard-Issue-brief-June-2019.pdf>

Immediately following the CMS change in payment models for therapies in nursing facilities (“Patient-Driven Payment Model”), a large number of facilities have drastically reduced the presence of therapists. This article from the Center for Medicare Advocacy describes the change in payment model, the reduction in therapy staff, and what residents and advocates can do:

<https://www.medicareadvocacy.org/skilled-nursing-facilities-lay-off-therapists-change-therapy-services-what-can-residents-therapists-do/?emci=9d342872-6023-ea11-a601-2818784d6d68&emdi=be1a6f0e-6b23-ea11-a601-2818784d6d68&ceid=4142979>

The Center for Medicare Advocacy explains that under certain conditions, residents CAN leave a skilled nursing facility for short-term visits without losing their Medicare funding for their stay:

<https://www.medicareadvocacy.org/you-can-leave-the-nursing-home/?emci=428713f1-2411-ea11-828b-2818784d6d68&emdi=a00092fd-4611-ea11-828b-2818784d6d68&ceid=4142979>

A Federal Court has ruled that patients on “observation status” who are subsequently denied Medicare coverage of long-term care services have the right to appeal.

Justice In Aging has prepared a press release announcing this “win”:

<https://www.justiceinaging.org/medicare-patients-placed-under-observation-status-win-right-to-appeal-federal-court-orders/>

Changes in Medicare payment processes DO NOT change eligibility and coverage for skilled therapies, although they do provide incentives for providers to change their practices – and not in the interest of consumers. For details of this issue:

<https://www.medicareadvocacy.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/Issue-Brief.-Medicare-Payment-vs.-Coverage.pdf?emci=7ea1b69b-865d-ea11-a94c-00155d039e74&emdi=b7eb2fbd-895d-ea11-a94c-00155d039e74&ceid=4142979>

Medicare payment processes for Home Health services have also changed, but eligibility and coverage for Home Health services have not changed; as this fact sheet from CMS confirms:

For information about tax breaks available to offset buy-in to a retirement community:

FIND IT

Nursing Home Five Star Ratings

The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services publishes a tool to assist consumers and advocates to locate and research certified nursing homes, and to compare quality:

<https://www.medicare.gov/nursinghomecompare/search.html?>

On a cautionary note, A study by the Center for Public Integrity Urges Caution: the Nursing Home Compare website, published by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, lists information about nursing homes to aid consumers in choosing a facility. Unfortunately, some information on Nursing Home Compare is self-reported by the nursing homes themselves, and some of that information has been shown to be inaccurate. One important inaccuracy is that prior to 2019, over 80% of nursing homes were reporting more coverage by registered nurses than their payroll records show, thus claiming better care than they actually provided. (WEB SITE OWNER’S NOTE: Recently CMS has begun using payroll data directly to develop these statistics. Some other information, however, continues to be either self-reported or indirectly influenced by self-reported information. Consumers should refer to Nursing Home Compare only with this caution in mind.) The study showing such inaccuracies, by the Center for Public Integrity, can be accessed here:

<http://www.publicintegrity.org/2014/11/12/16246/analysis-shows-widespread-discrepancies-staffing-levels-reported-nursing-homes>

For a report on trends in care and deficiencies found in nursing facilities throughout the country, 2009 – 2014, by the Kaiser Commission on Medicaid and the Uninsured:

<http://theconsumervoice.org/uploads/files/issues/report-nursing-facilities-staffing-residents-and-facility-deficiencies-2009-through-2014.pdf>

NOTE: this report is NOT just for those interested in care of people who receive Medicaid – it impacts every resident of a facility that participates in federal reimbursement programs, and is a benchmark for measuring the quality of care even in privately-funded facilities.

“Special Focus Facilities”

CMS oversees the Special Focus Facility (SFF) program, which places special scrutiny on select nursing homes with a documented pattern of providing poor care. Almost 400 facilities are eligible for the Special Focus Facilities program because they have a “persistent record of poor care,” yet only about 80 are selected to participate due to CMS’ limited resources. For the full list of facilities by state, including their participation status:

<https://www.aging.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/SFF%20List%20with%20Cover%20Letter%20051419%20-%20Casey.pdf>

Senators Bob Casey (D-PA) and Pat Toomey (R-PA) have published a report exposing this situation because these facilities are “indistinguishable” from participants in the program.

"When a family makes the hard decision to seek nursing home services for a loved one, they deserve to know if a facility under consideration suffers from systemic shortcomings," Sen. Toomey stated. Find the full report here:

<https://www.aging.senate.gov/imo/media/doc/Casey%20Toomey%20SFF%20Report%20June%202019.pdf>

AP News covered this story:

<https://www.apnews.com/f1f93e5f11634ba994dfd21bbc32e73b>

Despite these findings, the industry continues to claim they are providing good care, and getting better. They want to reduce oversight. For a “fact vs. fiction” report on those claims from the Center for Medicare Advocacy and the LTCCC:

and a list of the 10 top and 10 bottom performing nursing homes in each state:

<https://nursinghome411.org/top-ten-bottom-ten-nursing-homes-for-each-state-2019-q1/>

The New York-based Long-Term Care Community Coalition (LTCCC) has created a database including all U.S. nursing homes identified by CMS as SFF (Special Focus Facility) candidates. The database is available at <https://nursinghome411.org/special-focus-facility-candidate-list-july-2019/>. It is easily searchable and sortable by facility name, address, city, state, zip code, months as an SFF candidate, overall star rating, and ratings for Health Inspections, Quality Measures, and Staffing.

(HINT: it’s not what you may be told by the facility. The truth is that when a SNF tells a beneficiary that he or she is “discharged,” at that point, Medicare has not yet made any determination about coverage and a resident cannot be evicted solely because Medicare will not pay for the stay.)

Jimmo Implementation Resources

The “improvement standard” can no longer be cited as a reason to discontinue Medicare payment for therapies or other skilled services:

<http://www.medicareadvocacy.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/04/Jimmo-Fact-Sheet-04.2018-00293969xC6348.pdf>

Center for Medicare Advocacy has crafted resources advocates can use to educate providers, contractors, and adjudicators who are not versed in the federal court decision Jimmo v Sebelius, which made the so-called “improvement standard” invalid in determining the appropriateness of physical, occupational, speech, and other special therapies:

<https://www.medicareadvocacy.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/12/Jimmo-Fact-Sheet-for-Providers-Contractors-Adjudicators.pdf>

CMS has provided a web page with resources to assist consumers and providers to understand and properly implement the Jimmo v. Sebelius court settlement (which clarified that Medicare will pay for skilled nursing and therapy services regardless of anticipated improvement in the underlying condition):

The Center for Medicare Advocacy has issued a checklist to help patients when the so-called (and illegal) “improvement standard” is used to deny Medicare payment for skilled nursing and therapy care:

The Kaiser Family Foundation’s news service has published an article highlighting the challenges Medicare beneficiaries face in accessing Medicare funding for services despite the Jimmo ruling:

The Center for Medicare Advocacy has new resources on navigating the “no improvement required” provision of the federal court case Jimmo V. Sebelius when patients and advocates encounter problems or barriers by providers of therapies:

<https://www.medicareadvocacy.org/you-do-not-have-to-improve-new-jimmo-resources-for-appealing-medicare-denials-in-nursing-homes/?emci=936407f5-9cf9-e911-828b-2818784d6d68&emdi=c592b0df-b4f9-e911-828b-2818784d6d68&ceid=4142979>

The new payment models by which Medicare began paying for therapies beginning January 1, 2020, has already also resulted in home health consumers not receiving prescribed care. The Center for Medicare Advocacy has published a case-study-based guide for consumers to respond to provider misinterpretations of the new rule:

The LTCCC has also published a report defining abuse and neglect, describing federal regulations in place to protect residents, and discussing promising practices that can be adopted by facilities to address these issues.

<https://nursinghome411.org/ltccc-report-abuse-neglect-crime/>

Consumer Voice and NORC (National Ombudsman Resource Center) have created several new training materials on the topic of abuse, neglect, exploitation and misappropriation of property. The materials are based on the revised nursing home regulations. The new materials can be used together as an educational toolkit for training by and for Ombudsman program representatives, for members of resident and family councils, facility in-service training and community education.

- Prezi - A Prezi is a visual storytelling alternative to a PowerPoint presentation. The Abuse, Neglect, Exploitation and Misappropriation of Property Prezi uses the map-like layout to provide information on identifying, preventing and reporting abuse and knowing the signs of abuse. The Prezi is available as a video with a voiceover at http://theconsumervoice.org/uploads/files/issues/Abuse\_prezi\_with\_voiceover.mp4 or as a clickable presentation without voiceover at <https://prezi.com/view/VSszKpW4Z0Khre6UUEjW/>. ## Adverse Events

The Office of the Inspector General of the United States has issued a report about the incidence of adverse events in nursing homes which can be accessed at

<http://oig.hhs.gov/oei/reports/oei-06-11-00370.pdf>

Despite this highly critical report, the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services is considering loosening its regulation of nursing facilities and its enforcement processes even more than in recent years under the current standards. A report on the reduction in enforcement actions nationwide can be found at

<http://www.ltccc.org/news/documents/EnforcementTrends--2007-2013-June2013.xls>

The National Consumer Voice for Quality Long-Term Care is urging CMS not to change the regulations, but to step up its enforcement of sanctions and penalties for facilities that are in violation of the current regulations. Visit www.theconsumervoice.org to learn about various quality initiatives you can support with your voice to Congress.

The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services has released a “Change Package” resource of best practices to prevent harm from all causes in nursing homes. The project explanation and content of the resource are described here:

Corporate Takeover Issues

This New York Times article from January 2018 illustrates a growing trend in a get-rich scheme in which owners of nursing homes also have ownership interest in numerous support services companies (therapy, meal service, etc.) with whom they contract – and overpay – for these support services, thereby reaping large profits while underfunding the nursing homes.

https://www.nytimes.com/2018/01/02/business/nursing-homes-care-corporate.html?\_r=0

An article from JustCare warns that “chain” (i.e. corporate-owned multi-location) nursing homes may not mean quality:

<http://justcareusa.org/beware-of-chain-nursing-homes/>
