Day 1: Tour of Dublin and St Patrick's Cathedral, Saturday, March 14

Céad míle fáilte! Your tour begins at your accommodations, the four-star Ashling Hotel in Dublin. You will be transported by shuttle to your hotel from Dublin Airport. Regroup for an introductory tour of Dublin – a marvelous city of charming pubs, stately Georgian buildings, hip restaurants, busy shops and grand old monuments, all infused with a special blend of history, music and wit. Visit the 800-year-old St Patrick's Cathedral; legend says this building, Ireland's largest cathedral, was built on the site of an ancient well used by St Patrick to baptize converts to Christianity. Celebrate your arrival with a welcome drink at your hotel, followed by a free evening to dine as you wish.

Day 2: Pub Fun in the City, Sunday, March 15

Explore Ireland's pub culture and have fun discovering local whiskey and beer production. Begin with a trip to a leading distillery in the Liberties, one of Dublin's most distinctive and historic working-class areas. Staying in the neighborhood, visit the Guinness Storehouse, Ireland's number one tourist attraction and the home of Ireland's most iconic stout since 1759. Have a pint in the Gravity Bar on the top floor as you gaze out at panoramic views of the city. Spend the rest of the afternoon exploring as you wish – You might find that a “good puzzle would be [to] cross Dublin without passing a pub”, as James Joyce once wrote. Enjoy dinner and a show of traditional Irish music and dance at the 2000-year old Merry Ploughboy, the only one in Ireland owned and managed by traditional Irish musicians. (B, D)

Day 3: Back to the Stone Age in Newgrange, Monday, March 16

Head out of Dublin to the scenic Boyne Valley and the Stone Age passage tomb of Newgrange. Built over 5,000 years ago, it's older than Stonehenge and the Egyptian pyramids; it remains a mysterious marvel today for the dramatic way the inner chamber floods with light at sunrise on the winter solstice. The surrounding area, Brú na Bóinne, is a UNESCO World Heritage site, filled with riches from 6,000 years of history. Along the way, you'll pass the hilltop at Slane where St Patrick lit an Easter fire, competing with the druids' flames for a pagan festival on the nearby Hill of Tara, sparking a standoff that would eventually lead to Ireland's conversion. Head back to Dublin that evening for dinner at The Church Restaurant, a unique venue in a converted church where brewer Arthur Guinness was married, playwright Sean O'Casey was baptized, and Handel practiced on the organ before the Messiah's nearby debut.

Note: Some coaches will switch daytime activities on Day 2 and 3, due to the fact that there will be multiple coaches on this tour. Evening activities will be the same for all guests.

Day 4: The Big Day, Tuesday, March 17

Celebrate St Patrick's Day at Dublin's iconic heart: at the landmark General Post Office, in the center of town, right on the parade route. The GPO, once the headquarters of the Easter Rising, is possibly the most important building in all of Irish history. On Easter Monday 1916, Irish rebel leader Pádraig Pearse read the Proclamation of Independence outside its doors, declaring Ireland a republic. The ensuing doomed rebellion would destroy much of Dublin's city center and result in the executions of most of its leaders, but was the pivotal event in the establishment of Ireland as an independent state.

We'll start the day by bringing you behind the scenes for a private tour of the floats and bands in the morning, as the festivities and the excitement are gearing up. Next, tour the spectacular "Witness History" exhibition at the GPO, including an exciting display commemorating the 170-year history of the Irish flag, which first flew from the building's rooftop during Easter Week 1916. Then the merriment really begins, with CIE Tours' exclusive access to a private party in the GPO, made possible through our partnership with Shannon Heritage. From the party you can step just outside the door to watch the parade from a private viewing spot – and it's a celebration like no other! Dublin's St Patrick's Day parade is a magnificent moving street performance, with marching bands accompanied by flamboyant carnival-style performers, dancers, and street theater groups. It's a marvelous swirl of color, music and joy. After the parade, you will have free time to revel in the city's festive atmosphere.

(B, L)

Day 5: Wicklow and Farewell, Wednesday, March 18

Relax as you wind down your trip with a visit to Ireland's largest national park, in the beautiful Wicklow Mountains. Tour Glendalough, a sixth-century monastery that flourished as a center of learning for hundreds of years, despite numerous sackings by Vikings. The many Irish and Latin manuscripts produced there by medieval monks preserved much of Europe's knowledge of religion, astronomy and mathematics during the Dark Ages. The ruins of this settlement stand today, including a distinctive 30-foot round tower, churches dating to the 10th century, and one of Ireland's oldest Celtic crosses. Stop in Co. Wicklow for a farewell drink in a pub, and then enjoy free time in Dublin for your last night.
