Her battle with Alzheimer's in recent years only showed her courage in facing life's challenges with a smile. She was born and raised in Bad Axe, graduating from high school in 1957. She met the love of her life, Lyn, while in high school. They married on August 22, 1959 at the Baptist Church in Bad Axe. They remained in Bad Axe to build their life together and raise their family. Sharon had a musical talent that was discovered at a young age. This was a gift that brought her much joy throughout her life. She faithfully played the organ for the First Presbyterian Church for several years, where she was a member for more than 50 years. Even in her latter days, gospel songs, especially "The Old Rugged Cross", brought comfort to her.
