WAIVER

Explanation of rights in connection with signing of instrument containing Confession of Judgment as required by opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States

The undersigned clearly and specifically understand that by signing the note above referred to, containing a Confession of Judgment clause:

1. We and each of us authorize LAWYERS TRUST BAIL BONDS LLC to enter a judgment against the undersigned, or either of us, at its discretion and in its favor without notice and without declaration of default for non-payment, which entry will give the holder a lien as security for payment upon the real property, including the home, owned by the undersigned at the time of entry, and a lien on personal property owned by the undersigned at the time it is given to the sheriff for execution.

2. All of the undersigned waive all right to notice and to have an opportunity to be heard prior to entry of the judgment on the court records, I understand that the only method to challenge this judgment would be by proceedings in Court to open or strike it, which proceedings would result in substantial attorney's fees which the undersigned would have to pay. Without such clause containing a Confession of Judgment the holder would have to file a suit against the undersigned which would give the undersigned an opportunity for a hearing which the undersigned does not have by reason of the confession.

The undersigned acknowledge(s) receipt of a copy of this affidavit and certify that after reading and fully understanding it, the undersigned have signed this affidavit intentionally, understandingly and voluntarily waiving all the above rights, being willing to sign such note despite the consequences set forth above.
