Veterinary Technician/Assistant FT, PT, Weekends (depends on position)

Looking for an exciting and challenging career in veterinary medicine? The University of Florida Small Animal Hospital might be just what you are looking for! Sprawling over 100,000 square feet, the AAHA Accredited Small Animal Hospital offers 15 specialty services to the over 39,700 patients seen yearly and are seeking technicians who have a strong interest and passion for a particular specialty in veterinary medicine. The Small Animal Hospital is a proud advocate of those wanting to continue to grow personally and professionally in the veterinary field and even those considering a technician specialty certification (VTS). Technicians should be motivated individuals who possess the drive to succeed in a busy hospital and have an interest in working in an educational environment.

Overall the Small Animal Hospital offers medical and surgical care for dogs, cats, birds, and exotic pets through a spectrum of cutting edge technologies. Some highlights for various services include:

- telemetry monitoring systems
- in-house blood donation services
- hemodialysis machines
- mechanical ventilation systems
- state-of-the art areas including a specialized isolation area and a catheterization lab
- MRI, CT, and digital radiology suites
- capability to use various rehabilitative modalities including hyperbaric oxygen therapy, underwater treadmills, and acupuncture
- Radiation therapy services utilizing a LINAC (Linear Accelerator)
