

Marty Ryan

In my spare time I enjoy going to concerts, playing my guitar, being outdoors (fishing & camping), and most of all, spending time with my daughter Dylan.

I come from a vast background of helping people. I have worked in the staffing world as a recruiter, in higher education as an admissions representative, and even worked with children as a substitute teacher and teacher's aide for special needs children.

Pat Tillman is one of my heroes. He was a superstar NFL Safety for the Arizona Cardinals, making millions of dollars and living every boy's dream. After the 9/11 attacks, he gave it all up and enlisted in the Army, ultimately giving his life for our country.
