

News from the Meadow
December 2024

OPEN HOUSE WEDNESDAY, DEC. 11th 7-8 PM
FOR NEW FAMILIES

The staff and I would like to thank everyone who donated to Holiday Express. You all helped to make this holiday season a little brighter for someone!

Believe it or not, December is here! Before you know it we'll be caught up in the hustle and bustle of this very special month. We will be playing holiday music, singing songs and painting menorahs and trees. We will also be listening to how our new friends celebrate this wonderful month of holidays.

We feel that if children learn about different customs at a young age, they will embrace people's differences as they grow up. The teachers at Meadow Flower will not discuss the religious aspects of the holiday season. The holiday season stretches until January and the visibility, hype and enthusiasm is bound to rub off on the children. Nursery school is a good place to discuss cultural customs and de-emphasize the "gift giving" season. If anyone objects to their child participating in any holiday crafts, please speak to the teacher so we can work it out.

The whisper sound of December won't be heard for long, but special gifts will be worked on in each class and the element of secrecy will prevail. It is not easy for the little ones to keep a secret, so try not to ask, "What did you do in school today?" Your help may be needed to find the right place to hide such a treasured gift, but remember NO PEEKING, the surprise and excitement will be something you'll remember for years to come.

Inclement Weather – You will receive an email if school will be closed due to the weather, so please remember to check your email. School is cancelled after consulting with the local police about road conditions and other school closings. We do not have delayed openings. If bad weather develops during a school session, feel free to pick up your child early.

Dress for the weather – Remember we love to go outside in all kinds of weather at Meadow Flower. You can reuse your shopping bags by putting boots and snow pants in them. It would be greatly appreciated if you send mittens instead of gloves. It is not necessary for your child to wear everything when they come to school, as dressing is part of every class's curriculum. Please remember to put your CHILD'S NAME on everything.
