How to use this guide

Mercy Maricopa wants to make every effort to make sure you get the care you need to stay healthy. Our Office of Individual and Family Affairs has developed this Community Resource Guide as a service to our members and their families, advocates and providers. Our hope is that this guide will connect you to the community services and supports you need to achieve your recovery and resiliency goals. This guide has information that can help you make good choices and live a healthy life.

There are many resources available online. If you don't have internet access at home, you can visit your local library. Many public libraries have computers with internet connections available for the community.

This guide isn't a complete list of all services available in Maricopa County. We update this guide as new resources are identified. Our most current guide is available online at www.mercymaricopa.org/community-guide. If you have resources you think we should include in this guide or you have updated information, you can e-mail us at OIFATeam@MercyMaricopa.org.

Behavioral health crisis resources

For medical, police and fire emergency situations, always call 911.

MARICOPA CRISIS LINE

You can call for help with a behavioral health crisis 24 hours a day/7 days a week. It’s available for anyone at any time – when life is overwhelming, if you’re worried about a loved one, or if you just need to talk.

Crisis Response Network, Inc. (CRN) operates the Crisis Line. Their experienced, professionally trained Crisis Specialists are ready to respond to whatever crisis an individual is facing. They provide immediate and confidential help.

If your crisis can’t be solved over the phone, CRN may dispatch mobile clinicians to meet you where you are.

Public libraries

Sometimes you have to get online to do research, send an email, apply for services or fill out a job application. If you don't have a computer or Internet access at home, you can go to a public library. Most libraries also have personal computers and Wi-Fi you can use at no charge to connect to the Internet. If you need to print, there may be a fee for each page.

Some libraries require that you have a library card to use the personal computers. Contact the library of your choice to find out how to get a library card. Here's a list of libraries in Maricopa County.
