Advertise with the Philharmonic Society of Belleville

Thank you for considering placing an advertisement in the 2018-2019 Season program booklet for the Philharmonic Society of Belleville. The Belleville Philharmonic was founded in 1866 and has been a leading provider of music and arts programming in the Belleville area for 150 years. Having presented a concert season every year since its inception, the Belleville Philharmonic Orchestra is the second-oldest continuously performing symphony orchestra in the nation. This is an accomplishment that our whole community can boast of.

As a non-profit organization, conducted entirely by volunteer effort, we are dependent on the community to support our mission to continue to bring fine music to Belleville and the surrounding communities. The revenue from tickets only provides a portion of the income needed to carry out our annual series of concerts. We also rely on all manner of contributions from supporters. One of the most direct ways a local business, organization, or individual can provide assistance is through advertising in our season program booklet.

Advertisements appear in the program booklet that is distributed at all six subscription concerts, including three performances of the Nutcracker Ballet leading into the holidays. Advertisements will also appear in a listing on our web page and are featured regularly on our Facebook page.
