Because he trusts in You”

Happy Fall! Hope your autumn brings you, cool weather, colorful leaves.

I saw a friend’s post on Facebook about seven rules of life that said:

- ◆ to make peace with your past to not disturb your future
- ◆ what people think of you is none of your business
- ◆ the only person in charge of your happiness is you
- ◆ don’t compare your life to others; comparison is the thief of joy
- ◆ time heals almost everything; give it time
- ◆ stop thinking so much; it’s alright to not know all the answers
- ◆ smile you don’t own all the problems of the world.

How much better would your life be if you followed these little lessons? I feel like these should be refrigerator quotes, not Facebook quotes. Deep breath, every morning, remember them.

Blessings!

RWCNC CAR RALLY AND SIGN WAVING FOR AMY REICHERT

Thanks to all RWCNC members, Clairemont RWC members, Associate Members, Husbands and friends who participated in our OCT 1, car rally/sign waving and social hour event. Here are a couple of responses I've gotten in my email today:

From Member Karen Irving:

I just wanted to share what a joy it was to participate in the Rally for Amy! I had the good fortune to be in the 11th car position which offered me the great opportunity to witness people stepping out of their businesses and homes to see what all the honking was about. I got to see the smiles, waving back and clapping that the front cars might have missed. What a great gift of appreciation I got from Amy when I saw her jumping for joy as we drove by her at the La Mesa October Festival. Her heart is all in to win, and WIN she will! GO AMY!! Oh, the happy hour at Claim Jumper was a great idea and time of camaraderie! Thank you Laura for all your efforts!

Karen Irving

From the Campaign:

Thank you again for this. I know it took a ton of effort to coordinate and organize, and it was a huge success.

Thank you and the Navajo Canyon Republican women's group for your support for Amy's campaign.

We would need additional support putting up yard signs around District 4 and we will have sign waving events after ballots drop and on Election Day and the day before Election Day/

Please let me know if you and your group would like to help in any way.

Thank you!

Best,

Cynthia Kau
