

Why Choose Samco

All Samco Sport hoses are made by hand in the UK and each hose is 100% visually inspected before it leaves the factory. All our hoses meet or exceed the requirements of SAE J20 & are manufactured under an ISO 9002:2000 quality systems. Our hoses are made from the finest European silicones specifically designed for automotive use, and our light blue SamTek® lining used on all hoses has delivered outstanding resistance in the harshest environments over the last 12 years' experience We are proud of our permanently staffed laboratory (unique within the performance hose world) specifically set up for the testing & development of silicone hose.

Samco Sport is the original performance hose brand & we pioneered the development of the direct replacement aftermarket hose kit. We offer the most comprehensive range of kits (450+ applications) and standard parts available in the marketplace today. Our design engineers extensively research each new kit to ensure the best fitment & the most accurate design.

Not only do our products offer you proven reliability and performance, decking out your engine with a set of "Samco's" is the best way to add that striking finishing touch to your ride. Our hoses are available in 9 colors, from world famous "Samco Blue", to new exciting colors such ace "Ice White".
