The “CPOY Award” recipient(s) shall only be identified to the President who shall announce the winner(s) at a time determined by the President.

The policy has been established that an individual shall receive a “Certificate of Merit” for the first nomination, then receive a letter if they receive successive nominations for the next four (4) successive nomination and then receive another certificate on the fifth nomination. This sequence may be repeated. Any “CPOY” nominee who does not receive enough support shall be put on the “Certificate of Merit” list. It is recommended when making the determination for “CPOY” that the approximately 50% of the petitioned members respond and that ≈70% of those respondents support one nominee (this may be a couple [husband / wife]). There will be times when a judgement must be made. Consultation with the President is recommended.

FACEBOOK MANAGERS

Regional and event Facebook pages may be established or exist for local events. Facebook is an informal, digital communication platform based on a community sharing excerpts, links, pictures, short statements, and captions of activities. Depending on how the Facebook page has been set up, friends are accepted by the owner/manager allowing the friend to see and/or share postings, information, and comments. These are not council positions.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETINGS (AGM) SOP

The Society By-Laws require an Annual General Meeting (AGM -- Article X.1: 2016 By-Laws) be held at a time and place determined by Council annually. In conjunction with the AGM a Council meeting (Article V.15; 2016 By-Laws) shall be scheduled (usually just prior to the AGM). Of high priority associated with the AGM is the election of the next Council to continue conducting the Society's business. It is also a time during which business conducted by the Society needing membership approval is presented. The AGMs are held at changing locations to diversify the geographical convenience of attending and thus enable more members to participate in the affairs of the Society. A geographic change of location also serves to shift responsibility for preparing an AGM among the different regions of the Society. Beginning in 1976 the custom has arisen of joining with the Canadian Clan MacLeod Societies for the Annual meeting – called the North American Gathering (NAG) -- every four years alternating location between Canada and the USA.

Since the Annual General Meeting is a By-laws requirement, the Society is mandated to legally notify members of the location, time, and date. Since the Society is incorporated in New York State the notification of the AGM must be legally published in New York state. The Society currently publishes the legal notification in New York County, New York State via a New York newspaper "Irish Echo." The legal notification (Article X.7.E; 2016 By-Laws) is published for three (3) consecutive weeks prior to the AGM (see appendix this document). Notification of the AGM should also be made on the Clan MacLeod website or in an issue of the Clan MacLeod Newsletter. These notifications usually occur time-wise earlier than the legal notification to allow members to plan. For members not able to attend the AGM a simple proxy shall be created, which the member can sign, date, and send to the Vice President for Membership for validation. The Council slate may be published on the Society's web site and / or potential Facebook sites when available. A finalized slate will be voted upon, including nominations from the floor at the AGM. Results shall be published as part of the meeting minutes.

In order to promote attendance at an annual meeting and meet Society objectives such as promoting Scottish (MacLeod) heritage, fulfilling the educational function of the Society, and making the journey more rewarding, a number of peripheral events are customary planned: this includes but is not limited to lectures, a ceilidh, a dinner, a silent auction and a church service (Kirk'n). The church service frequently includes a blessing of the tartan and Flowers of the Forest as a remembrance of members who have died since the previous annual meeting. These events are usually, but not always, scheduled on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

It is recommended that planning begin at least two years in advance with selection of the host region, date, and place. It is recommended that the RVP of the host region select people to form a committee to manage the AGM and the events associated with the meeting. This committee should designate members to choose and secure facilities [a hotel with group rates or a college campus with meeting place(s)], select activities to support the objectives of the Society (educational, business, ecclesiastical, entertainment), define amenities (dining, hospitality, touring) and handle financial management of the event (determination of costs, receipt of money and payment for services, facilities, and honoraria). A place to conduct business must be arranged for the Dunvegan Foundation meeting, the Council meeting and for the Annual General Meeting.

An information / registration desk should be arranged in a convenient location like the lobby of the headquarters hotel or residence or a conspicuous notice posted directing arriving members to such a desk in a hospitality room. The information / registration desk should be attended by a local Clan member who can deliver a package of necessary items to the registering members. The package should contain the program, any necessary tickets, local touring literature and any other needed material. A roster of registered members is always appreciated and may be included in the arrival packet. Since arriving members' first impression will likely be that obtained at the information desk, every effort should be made to staff it with lively, well-informed people who can project a hearty welcome.

A proper book of accounts shall be kept with an associated checking account to process funds of the AGM. The Society shall advance the Region holding an AGM or NAG $500 to establish a bank account and start planning for the event. This money is to be paid back to the Societies Treasurer as soon as possible after the event is over. A special checking account is recommended to be opened to keep AGM funds separate from other Society funds and to provide a convenient method for payment of expenses. A proper book of accounts should be kept consisting of funds received, expenses paid, balance sheet, cash flow, and current account balances. A copy of the book of accounts along with any revenue owed the National Society shall be delivered to the Society's Treasurer to close out activities associated with the AGM. If a surplus of funds is generated due to the event, the funds shall be divided 60% / 40% between the Region hosting the AGM (60%) and the National Society (40%). A Budget versus Actual Expenditures compilation can provide added information as to the efficiency of the planned AGM. Finances should reflect a policy for the society that costs of entertainment and amenities at the meeting be met by members attending or by contributions from patrons. A key cost avoidance measure is to use volunteer help for as many tasks as possible and rely on amateur talent for entertainment. Costs should be carefully controlled to enable members of modest means to attend. In the years when the US Society is host to the Canadian Societies payment for the event in US funds should be specified. In the case of a NAG, if a silent auction is held, one half of the profits are retained by the US one half of the profits are sent to Canada.

Upon request, the Dunvegan Foundation shall provide funds (currently $750) to support a lecture at the AGM on a topic of historical or cultural interest to the membership. These funds may be used to pay for any costs associated with the lecture, such as an honorarium, lodging costs, meals for the lecturer, room rental, set-up fees, audio-visual equipment rental, or advertising. Any costs beyond the Foundation's grant will be the responsibility of the AGM committee. Any excess fund associated with the grant may be kept by the AGM. Key conditions attached to the provision of these funds are that the lecture must be titled as the Stanley & Marvyl McLeod Memorial Lecture and be advertised in the local press as open to the public at no charge. These funds are available to support lectures at all AGMs, including those held in Canada in conjunction with North American Gatherings or at the international gathering Parliament.

Each Annual General Meeting, with the special attractions of location and program should be fully advertised in the Clan MacLeod Newsletter and any regional newsletter. A benefit of making the AGM a special event is any publicity it may generate outside the Society. There are clanspersons who are unaware of the existence of the Society. A newspaper article about the meeting, its guest of honor, or the historical or cultural presentations to be made will serve to inform a wider audience of our existence and our programs.

A concise journal of the AGM committees planning, preparations, including problems and solutions, should be kept to provide a future reference for regions when making their plans. The journal should record the number of persons attending, the number of rooms used and the determined registration fee.

WINTER COUNCIL MEETING SOP

Although not required by the bylaws, an annual Winter Council Meeting has been held for many years. Originally the site of the meeting varied, but for quite some time the Winter Council Meeting has been held in Alexandria, VA in conjunction with the Scottish Christmas Walk Parade, which is held on the first Saturday of December. Because a Council meeting has been held during this weekend for many years, it is considered a regular meeting per the 2016 By-Laws and does not need any special notice to council members.

The purpose of the meeting is to handle any business of the Society that is deemed necessary. Normally the meeting is held on the Friday afternoon preceding Saturday's Parade. A meeting of the Dunvegan Foundation is also generally held in the morning on the same day. The Cindy MacLeod Memorial Award winner for the region showing greatest percentage increase in membership for the year is announced during this Council meeting. The percentage increase shall be determined on an October year end so as to allow announcing the winner at this meeting. On Saturday most attendees walk in the Parade joined by many other MacLeods. Traditionally the RVP of the Mid-Atlantic Region organizes the hotel and hospitality suite to support the Alexandria Meeting and also arranges with the Scottish Christmas Walk organizers for the Clan MacLeod to participate in the parade. This person gives instructions during the Friday meeting on where and when to meet for the parade.

The Alexandria meeting will require a meeting room for Dunvegan Foundation meeting and Council Meeting which is arranged by a contract with a local hotel. The contract includes a set rate for individual rooms in the hotel along with the use of a meeting room and hospitality suite. Check the Clan MacLeod USA website, event tab, for the exact hotel, dates, and time.

The social interaction of our members is extremely important to a successful meeting. It allows us to get to know one another in an informal setting that allows us to work together better. Thus, a hospitality suite should be provided for under the following guidelines:

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE AND JOB DESCRIPTIONS

CLAN MACLEOD U.S.A. (CMSUSA)

July 2023 – V8

- 1) The President shall be the default occupant (user) of the hospitality suite. If the President chooses not to stay in the hospitality suite, the President may offer its use to any MacLeod Society member. Should the President find no acceptance to the offer, the President, Vice President, Treasurer, etc. shall occupy the hospitality suite.
- 2) Whoever is responsible for planning the meeting will reserve the suite. This planner is usually the mid-Atlantic RVP. If this is not possible, the Society should find a substitute and provide guidance especially if the substitute lives out of the area. The planner should be identified and mutually accepted before June 1 prior to the event in order to meet the deadlines of the event. The planner shall also:
 - a. Work with the hotel staff for suite configuration changes (tables, table linens, chairs, refuse collection, etc.) as needed.
 - b. Work with the hotel catering or local food/beverage vendors for food/beverage items, ice, ice bins for use within the hospitality suite.
 - c. It is highly recommended that the meeting planner arrive one day prior to the event to sort out hotel/vendor conflicts as needed.
- 3) The user of the suite need not be there during the open periods listed below. However, the user remains responsible for the hospitality suite to include:
 - a. Proper food and beverage storage (including alcohol), refill/reload of ice, refuse collection/removal, basic housekeeping, etc.
 - b. If the user is not present during the open periods of hospitality, then the user will make a mutual agreement with another society member to be present and to take on the above responsibilities.
 - c. In all cases, the user remains responsible for the hospitality suite.
- 4) Use of the hospitality suite requires keeping the suite open to the membership during the periods:
 - a. Thursday before and after dinner until 10:00 PM.
 - b. Friday before and after dinner until 10:00 PM.
 - c. Saturday after the parade and after dinner until 10:00 PM.

ASSOCIATED CLAN MACLEOD SOCIETIES (ACMS)

At the second Clan Parliament, held in 1959, the delegates of the national societies approved the establishment of the Associated Clan MacLeod Societies. The ACMS was a response to Dame Flora, Chief of the MacLeod of MacLeod, when announcing the second Parliament: “Our second Parliament must prove to the world that a United Clan can contribute something valuable to its day and generation. The delegates must combine idealism with a sense of what is possible, and enthusiasm with common sense. We ask a lot.”

The ACMS was formed by the national societies to provide a continuing clan-wide entity functioning between Parliaments. It is important to remember that the extensive emigration from the Scottish Highlands spread the clans across the face of the earth. We now have Clan MacLeod societies in Australia, Canada, England, France, Germany, New Zealand, Scotland, South Africa, and Switzerland as well as in the U.S.A.

The ACMS has taken over responsibility for the Clan MacLeod Magazine, Clan genealogy and other publications from the Clan MacLeod Society of Scotland. It also provides the planning and management from Parliament. It has established the Dame Flora Memorial Trust and the Clan MacLeod Heritage Trust to provide the facilities of charitable trusts (with attendant tax advantages) to preserve and maintain architectural, literary, musical historical and natural objects and values in the MacLeod country in Scotland.

ACMS is supported by a per capita levy paid by the national societies. In addition to a president, treasurer, secretary, corresponding secretary, and parliament organizer who as a practical matter resides in the United Kingdom, the management committee of ACMS includes the presidents of each national society ex officio. Meetings of the management committee are usually held in January, April, September in addition to meeting during Parliament.

DUNVEGAN FOUNDATION

The mission of the Dunvegan Foundation is:

"To preserve, protect and promote the unique heritage of the Highlands and Islands of Scotland, as reflected through the history and migration of Clan MacLeod, by pooling our resources as a tax-exempt organization, to enable the support of activities which further these goals."

It accomplishes this through its organization and operation as a tax-exempt, not-for-profit organization, recognized under section 501(c)(3) of the tax code by the Internal Revenue Service. This permits the foundation to raise funds for a wide range of worthy projects.

It is managed by fifteen Trustees, appointed by the Council of the Clan MacLeod Society, USA. and approved at the Annual General Meeting each year (Article V.9; 2016 By-Laws). The President of the Society serves as an additional Trustee, ex officio. It depends entirely on gifts expressly intended for the Foundation. The Foundation is recognized as, and operates under different laws from those under which the Society is incorporated.

To ensure conformity with tax laws, the Trustees annually review proposed grants. When a grant has been accepted and shown to be a public benefit, not just solely for the benefit of the Clan MacLeod, it will be considered for funding with other acceptable proposals. Regular reports of activities are provided in the Society's national newsletter.

Contributions are regularly solicited from Society members, as well as from non-members. Contributors are invited to give not only for current needs and programs, but to provide for major gifts through deferred giving plans. Donors may specify that their gifts be applied to specific projects or grants, applied to the endowment fund, or given to the general fund. Gifts may also be offered to memorialize or to honor someone. Memorial notices are sent in such cases, and notices of receipt are always sent to donors. All contributions to the Foundation are tax deductible.

Below is a message from our legal counsel John Tutterow concerning the precise time requirements for the annual meeting notice which up to this point has been done using a detailed proxy published in the Newsletter requiring specific issue dates.

"Official Notice can be given by electronic mail to each member, no need for US mail, but the time hacks of no earlier than 50 and no later than 10 days still apply.

The newsletter is now divorced from any timeline for meeting notice requirements.

Proxy returns can be simple email messages as well.

See para. X7 of the bylaws."
