

MCCPTA PRESENTS

THE SECRET TO COOPERATIVE KIDS

When: Tuesday, February 27th at 6:30 PM
-7:30 PM

Where: Carver Auditorium, 850 Hungerford Drive

What: Join us for an informative talk with journalist and parenting expert Katherine Reynolds Lewis as she proposes a radical solution to the problem of misbehaving children: empathy. In The Good News About Bad Behavior: Why Kids are Less Disciplined Than Ever-- And What to Do About It, she documents a crisis of self-regulation--about half of the current generation of children will develop a mood or behavioral disorder or a substance addiction by age eighteen. Her book shows how children rise to the occasion when their adults learn to trust them, let them face consequences, and train them in the art of self-control.

For Additional Information Contact:

Erin Clegg, MCCPTA VP Programs

vpprograms@mccpta.org
or office@mccpta.org

