

Welcoming 2026!

– Brian Loflin

I was really surprised about how fast the year 2025 passed, especially the last half. Before I knew it, the year was gone. That was true of the club year as well.

In December we brought the year to its official close with our Annual Holiday and Awards Banquet at the Waterloo Icehouse. About 20 members and family enjoyed good food, fellowship and reviewed the submitted images for evaluation in 2025.

Annual awards for 2025 were dominated by women club members. Several took home the winnings. The Annual Awards included:

ASC Annual Awards for 2025

2nd place	Barbara Hunley
3rd place	Jill McLain

Assignment

Members We Will Miss

Phil Charleton was an officer of the club and board member for over 25 years. He made a lot of contributions to the club along the way, including the extremely concise evaluation of member's images. He was a perfectionist with his photography and computer processing. He was also the "King of Plugins" for Photoshop.

Pete Holland was also a member for many years. And in addition, Pete was a member of the Austin photographic scene for decades as owner of Holland Photo, a professional photo lab. Pete and wife Margie were icons in Austin Photography from their work in Holland Photo. Many professionals of the region knew them at the counter and would send materials to Holland Photo for processing.

John Davis was also a many-year member of the club. He and Alice were always together at club events prior to her passing some years ago. John grew up in Austin and was an award-winning architect and designer. As an architect, John had a masterful eye for design that permeated his photography. His work was evident through the UT Systems campuses and facilities as associate director of facilities planning and construction.

We had several interesting speakers and programs during the year, including Pollinators, State Parks of Texas, Fine Art Photography, Image Creation with AI, and more.

We had a variety of workshops and field trips throughout the year including Lightroom, Photoshop, and Still Life Workshops, and a Scavenger Hunt to Luling, Texas.

The new year is looking very interesting so far. The January meeting -now postponed until Thursday, January 8, will feature evaluation and critique. The Assignment is An Iconic Austin Mural. The image must include the architecture that supports the painting. Color only.

In February John Terwilliger will present a report about his last trip to Havana, Cuba for a photographic workshop. His initial comments stated that though somewhat restricted in travel, the workshop featured rewarding people and street photography. John is an excellent image maker, and his presentation will be captivating.

I know I look forward to the new year photographically. Your club leadership is dedicated to making each year an educational experience where everyone may have fun, enjoy our camaraderie, and grow their photography.
