

COL (R) Andy Grantham

COL (R) Andy Grantham served in the Army for 30 years, (over 18 on active and the rest in the Colorado National Guard). He commanded at Company, Battalion and Brigade. He retired in 2018 as the state G2 for the Colorado National Guard. He is currently serving as the Deputy Director for Space and Missile Defense Programs for Odyssey Systems Consulting, working to build Army business for his company.

Andy's military education includes the MI Officer's Basic and Advanced Courses, Combined Arms Service Staff School (CAS3), Command and General Staff College (CGSC), Inter-Service Space Intelligence Officer's Course (ISIOC), Joint Electronic Warfare Officer's Course, Joint Special Operations Task Force Staff Officer's Course, Master Resiliency level 1, Post-Graduate Intelligence Program (Defense Intelligence Agency), U.S. Army War College.

Andy was an ROTC graduate from Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio where he graduated with a BA in Political Science. He earned an MA from Boston University in International Relations, an MS in Leadership Development from Colorado State and an MS in Strategic Studies from the Army War College.

He is a member of AUSA, AFCEA and MOAA. He currently serves as the Vice President of Programs, Pikes Peak Chapter – AUSA. He became an ordained minister in 2019 (mainly to perform the marriage ceremony at his niece's wedding) and has since conducted two other wedding ceremonies.

Andy and his wife Tonya have three adult sons, Austin, Hunter and Christian. Christian attends the University of Colorado in Boulder.