

1903 Evansville Race Riot (Indiana)

The Evansville Race Riot occurred in July 9-10, 1903 in Evansville, Indiana and was the worst riot in the city's history. The riots occurred after a black man shot and killed a white policeman and ultimately resulted in 13 deaths.

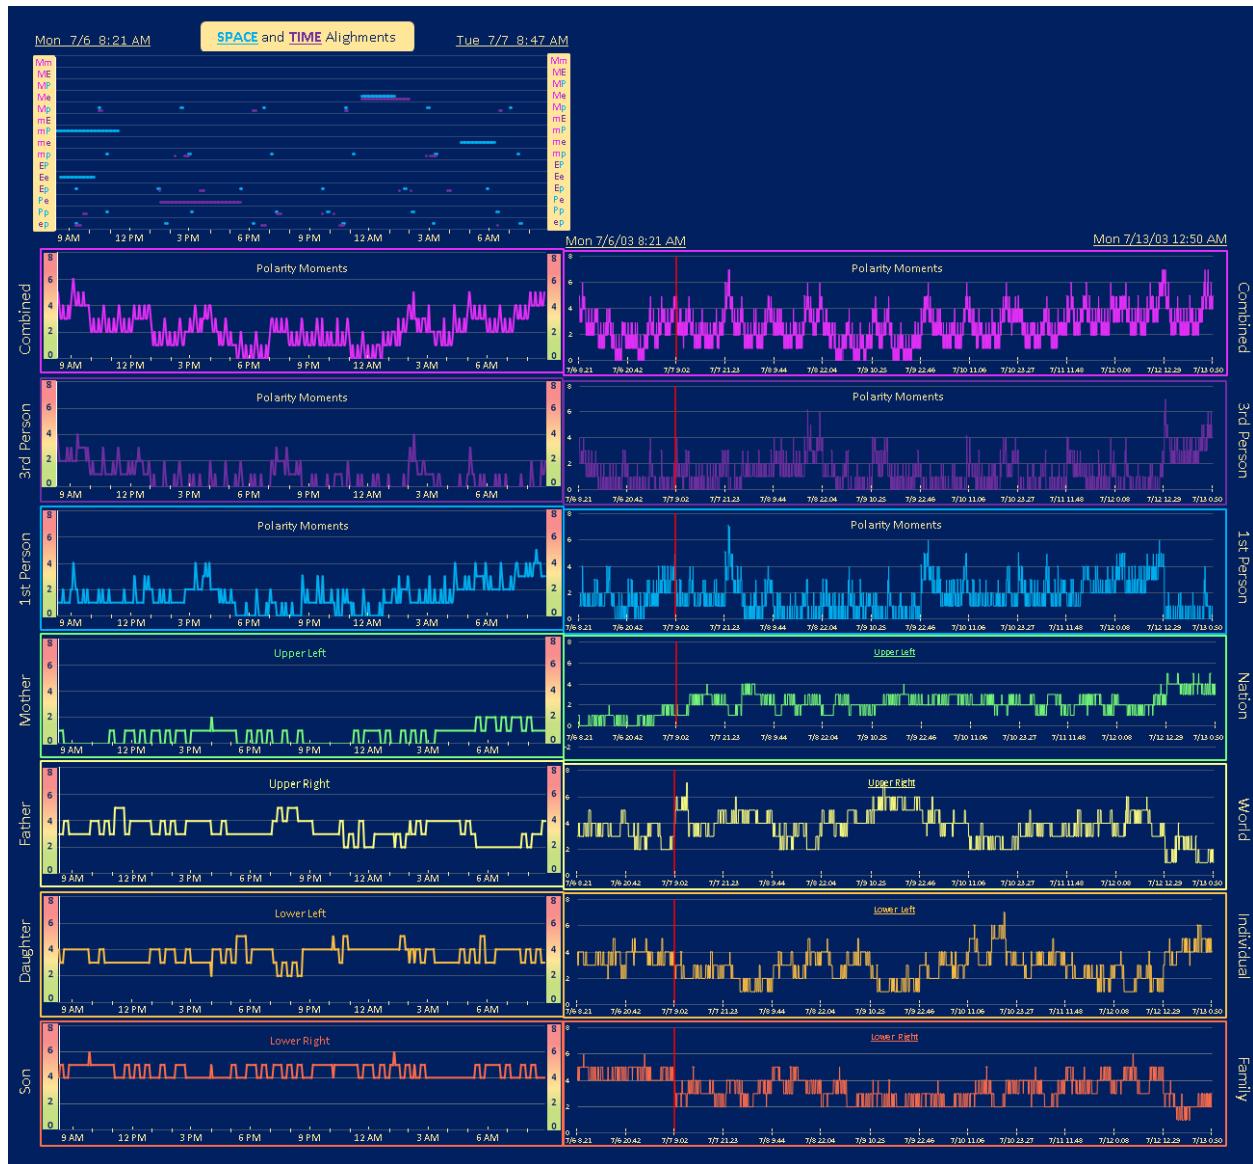

A mob of several thousand citizens (mostly all white) formed outside the Vanderburgh County Jail on July 6 and attempted to storm the jail with the intention of lynching Brown and 16 other black inmates.

Around 200 militiamen then opened fire on the mob, killing and injuring several rioters. The crowd then began looting hardware stores of weapons and stormed into black neighborhoods to expel black people from Evansville. The rioting continued until July 10 and a total of 13 people died during the riot, with more than 40 others seriously wounded and about 2,000 of Evansville's 8,000 black residents fleeing the city.

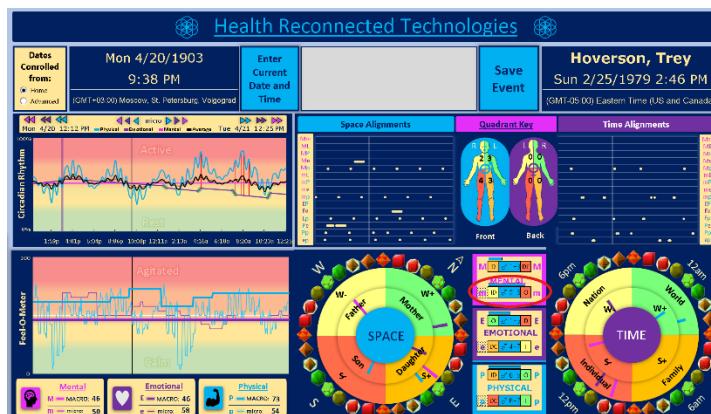

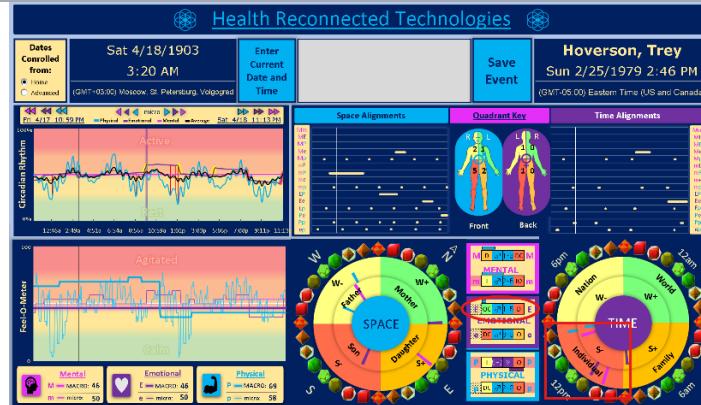

1903 Evansville Race Riot (Indiana)

Electromagnetics

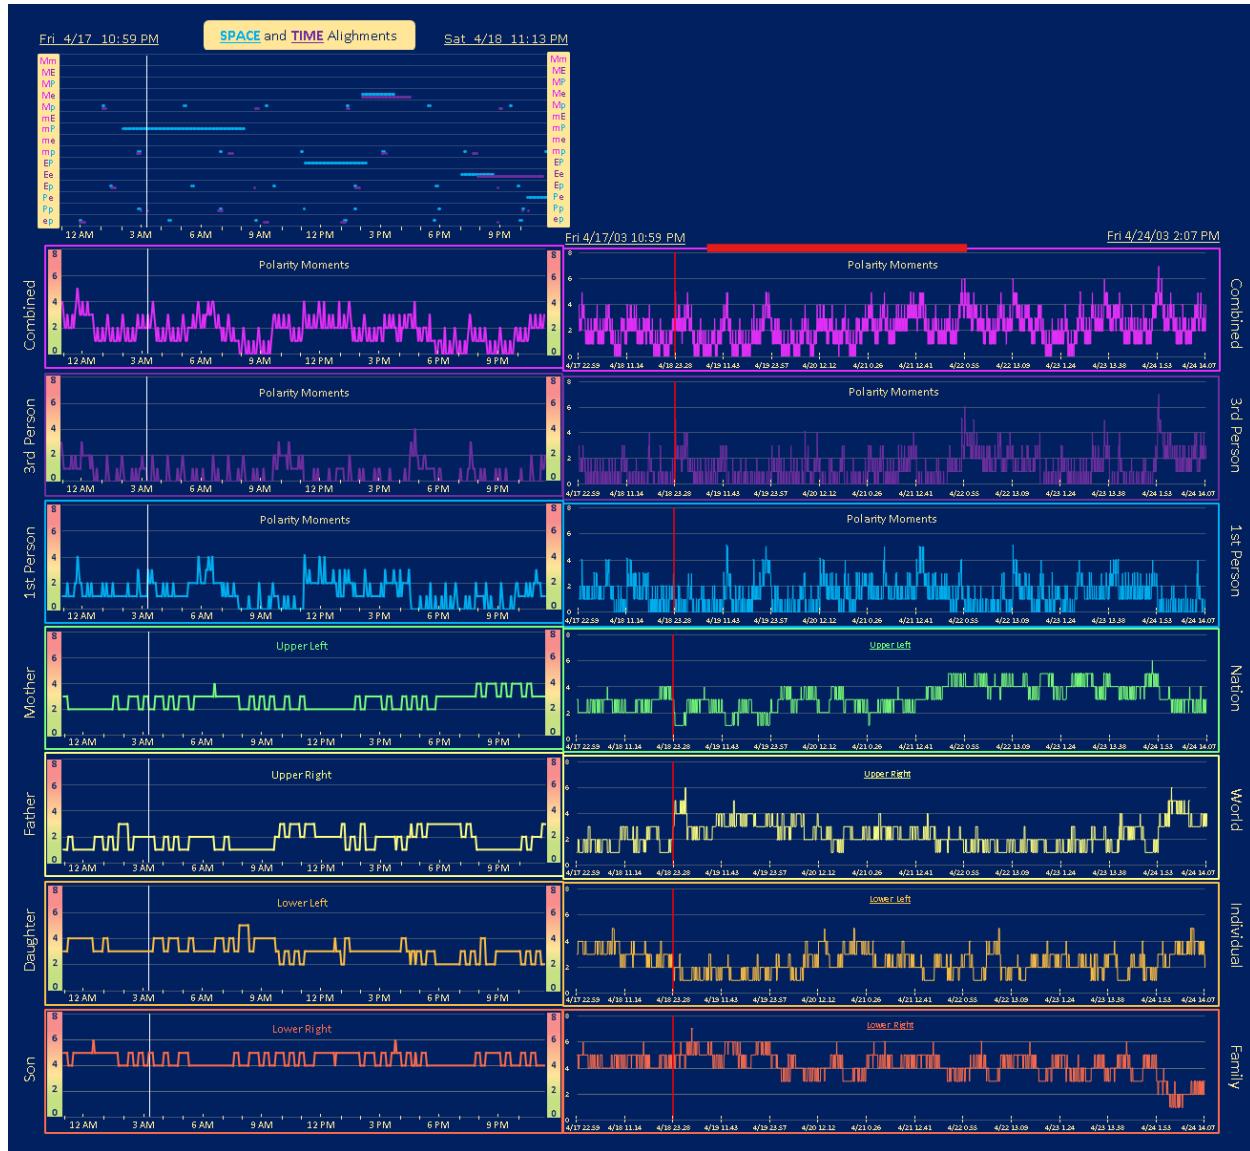

1903 Kishinev Massacre

Location	Kishinev, Bessarabia Governorate, Russian Empire (now Chișinău, Moldova)
Date	19–21 April [O.S. 6–8 April] 1903
Target	Bessarabian Jews
Attack type	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Pogrom massacre
Deaths	49
Injured	92 gravely injured >500 lightly injured
Perpetrators	Russian pogromists
Motive	Antisemitism

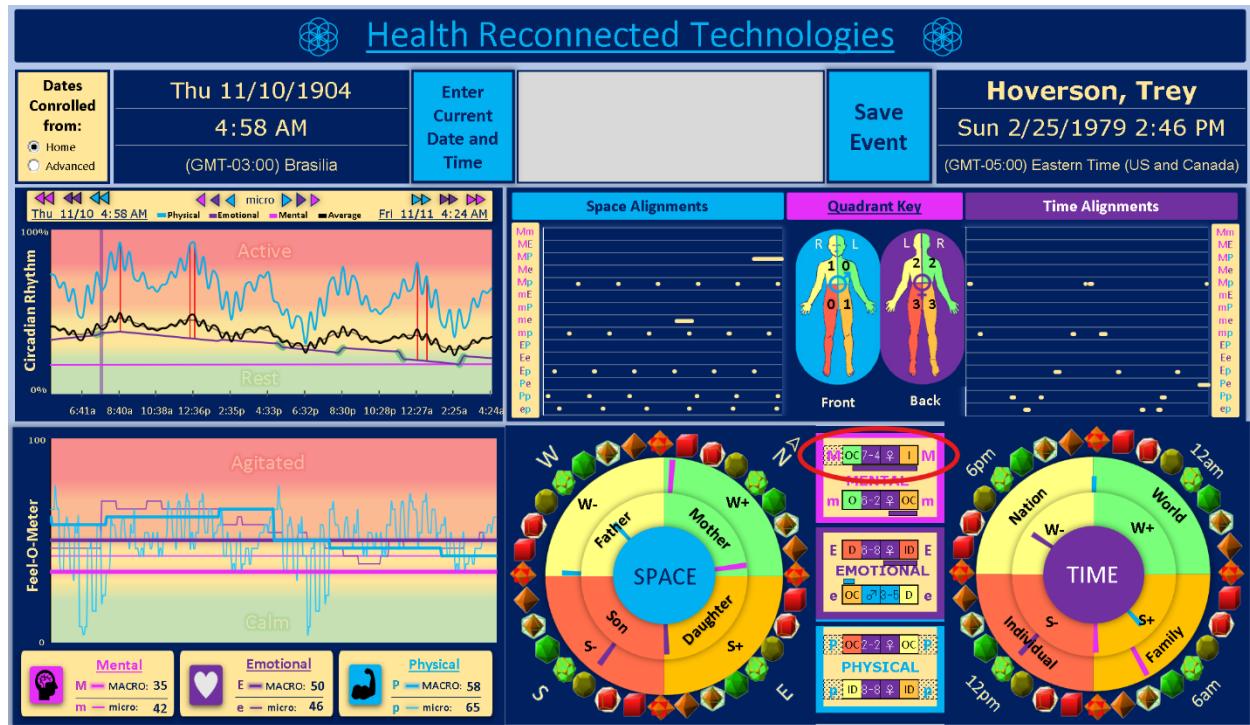

1903 Kishinev Massacre

Electromagnetics

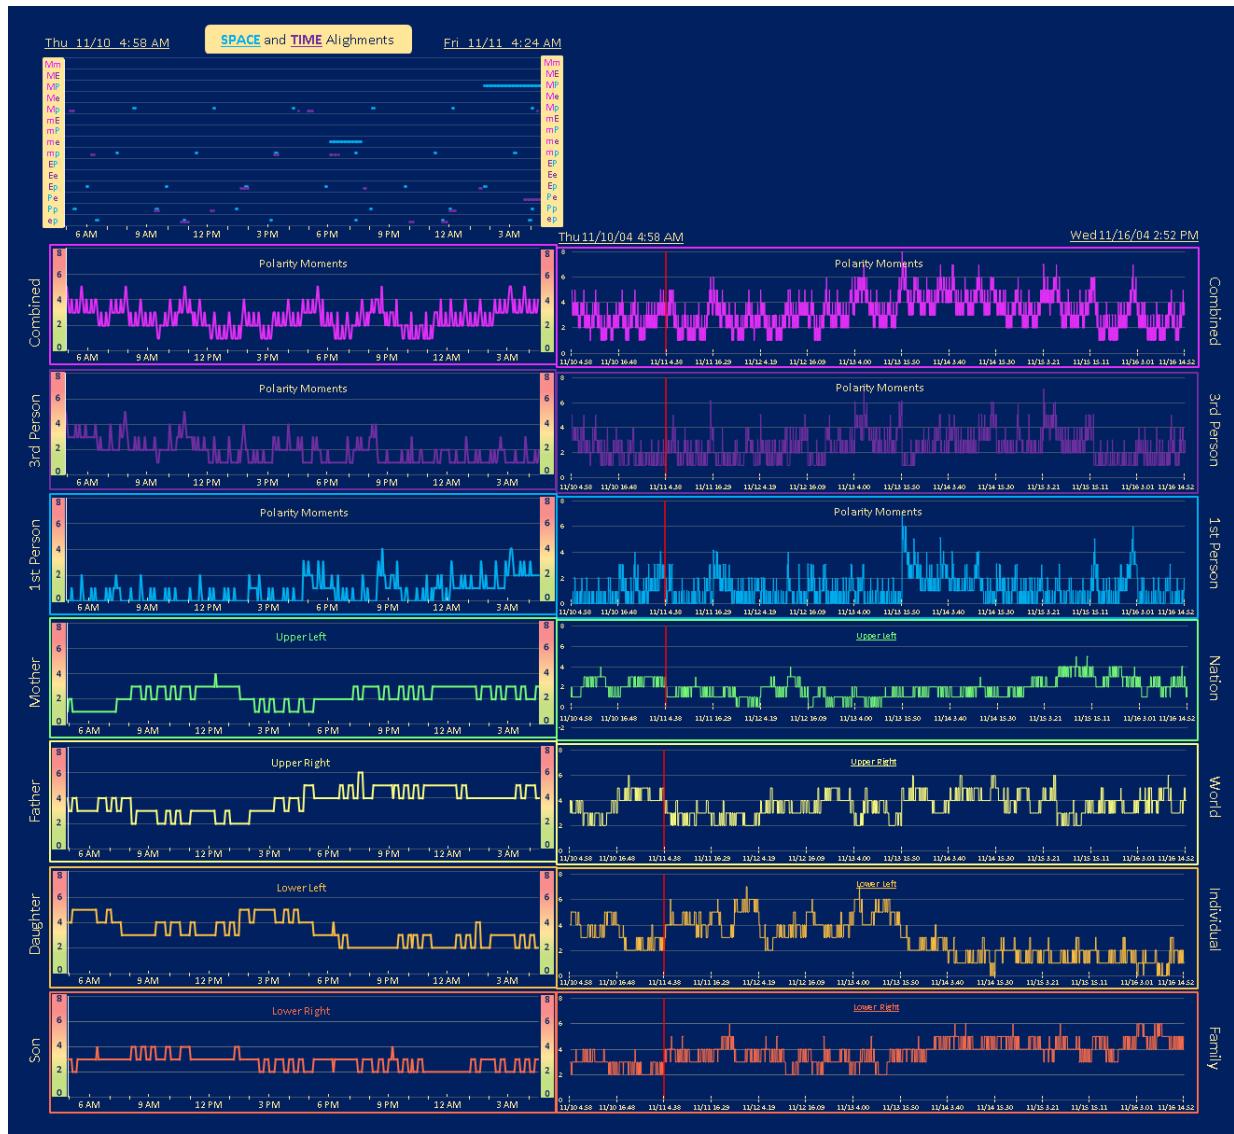

1904 Vaccine Revolt

Date	10-16 November 1904
Location	Rio de Janeiro, Brazil
Caused by	Mandatory vaccination law Popular dissatisfaction with public services
Resulted in	Revocation of mandatory vaccination Military coup attempt defeated
Casualties and losses
30 killed 110 wounded 945 arrested (461 deported to Acre)

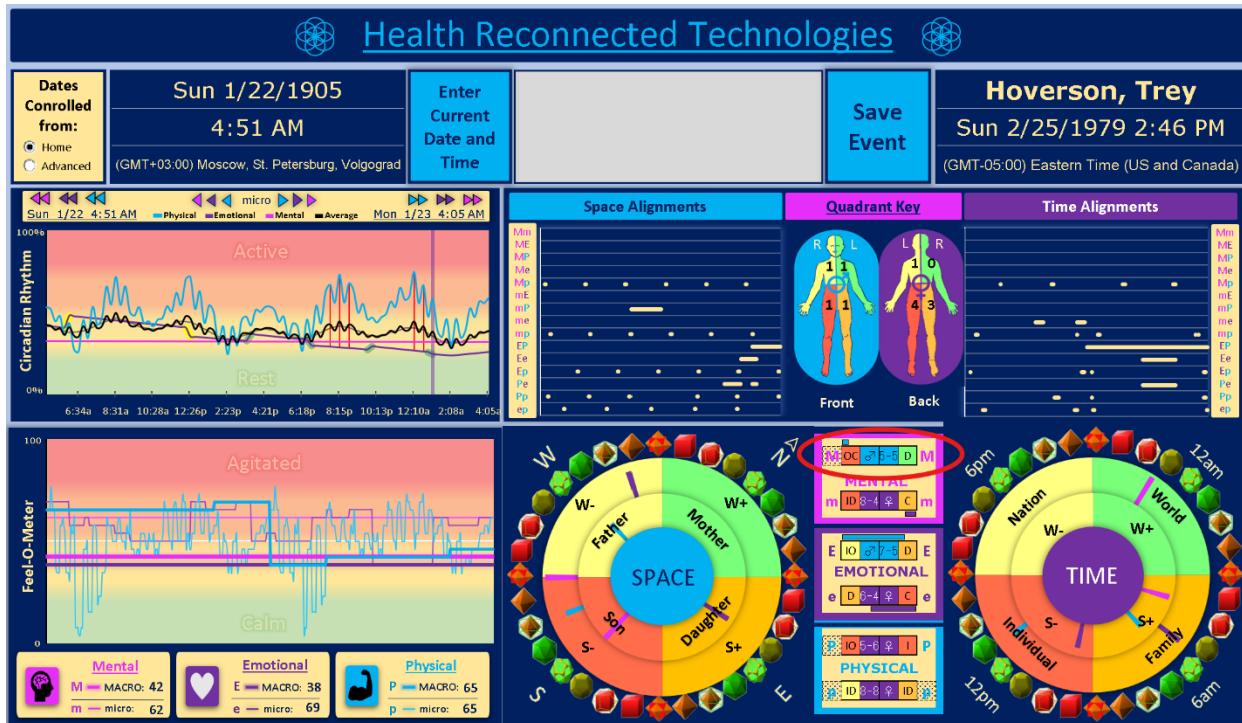

1904 Vaccine Revolt

Electromagnetics

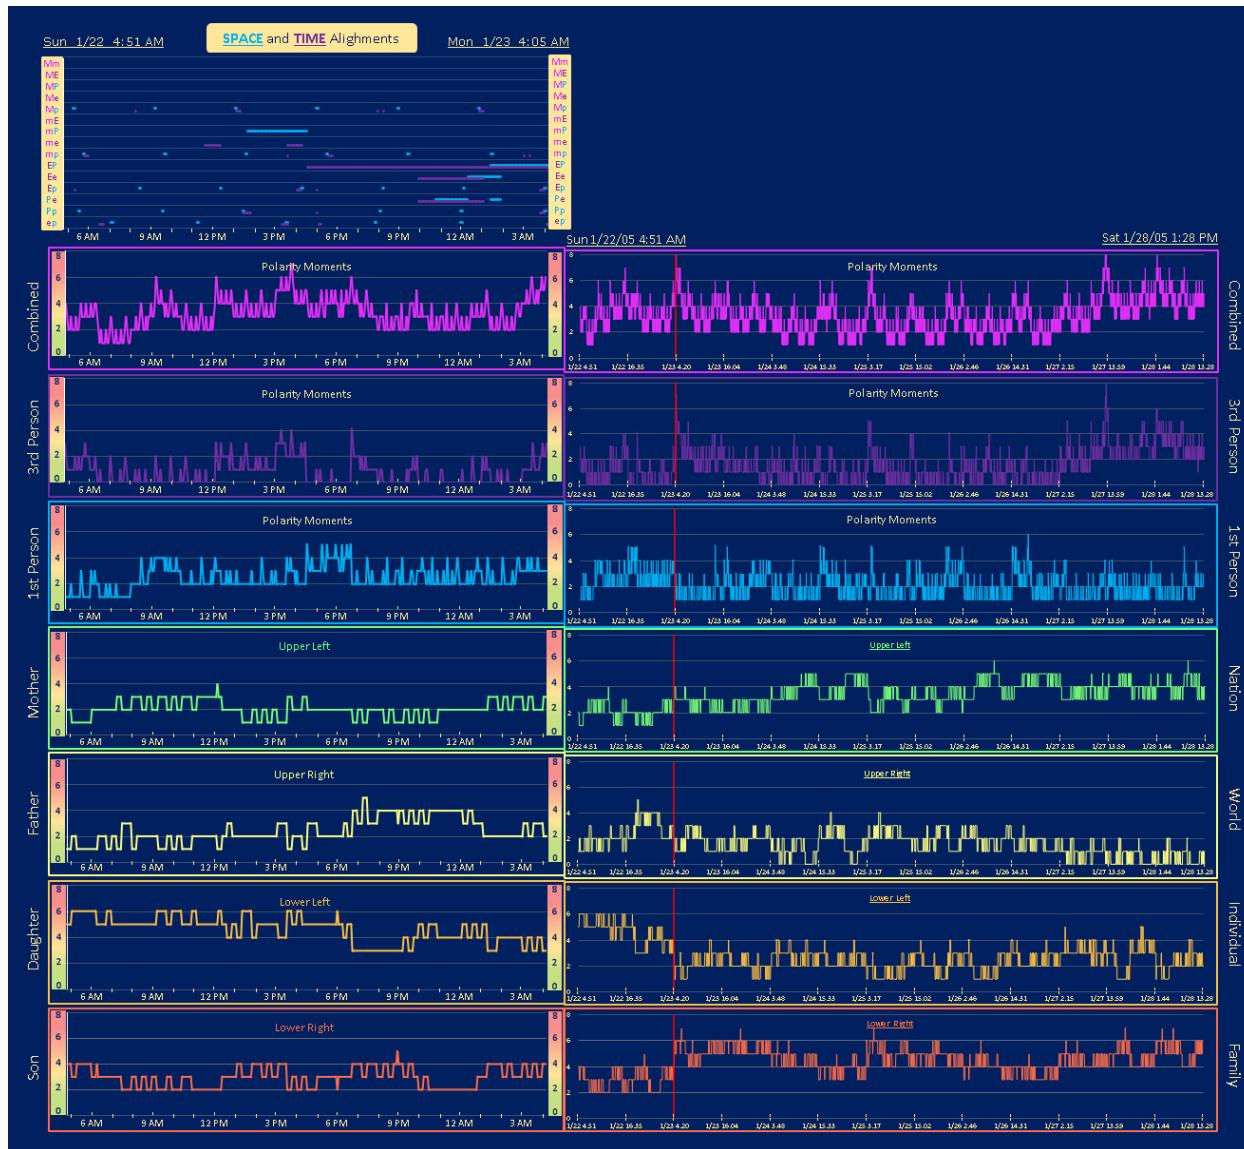

1905 Bloody Sunday or Red Sunday

Date	22 January [O.S. 9 January] 1905
Location	St. Petersburg, Russian Empire
Goals	To deliver a petition to Tsar Nicholas II , calling for reforms such as: limitations on state officials' power, improvements to working conditions and hours, and the introduction of a national parliament
Methods	Demonstration march
Resulted in	Dispersal of the workers' procession; beginning of the 1905 Russian Revolution

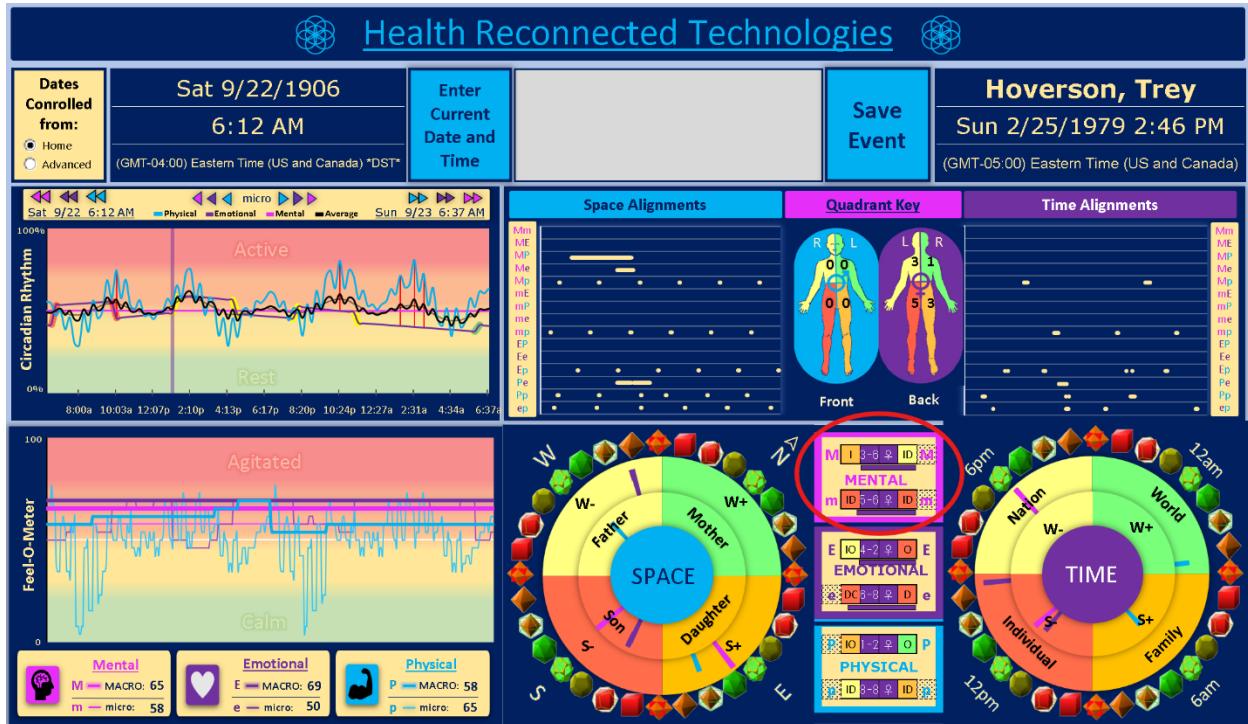

1905 Bloody Sunday or Red Sunday

Electromagnetics

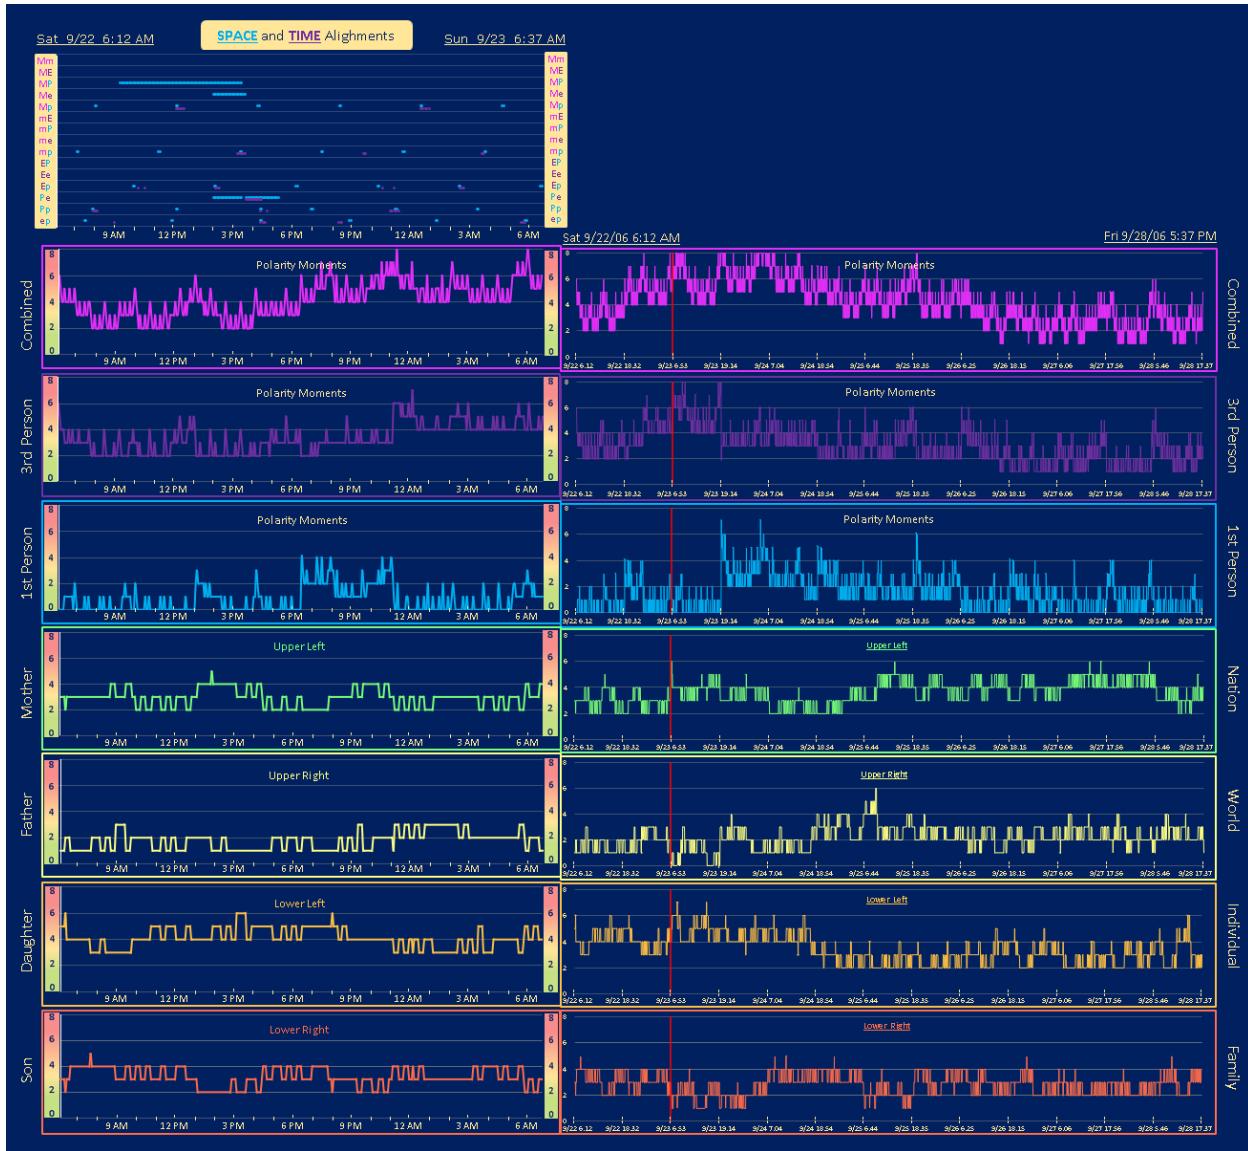

1906 Atlanta Race Riot

Location	Atlanta , Georgia
Date	September 22–24, 1906
Target	African Americans
Deaths	25+ African Americans, 2 white Americans
Injured	90+ African Americans, 10 white Americans
Perpetrators	White mobs, and Fulton county police.

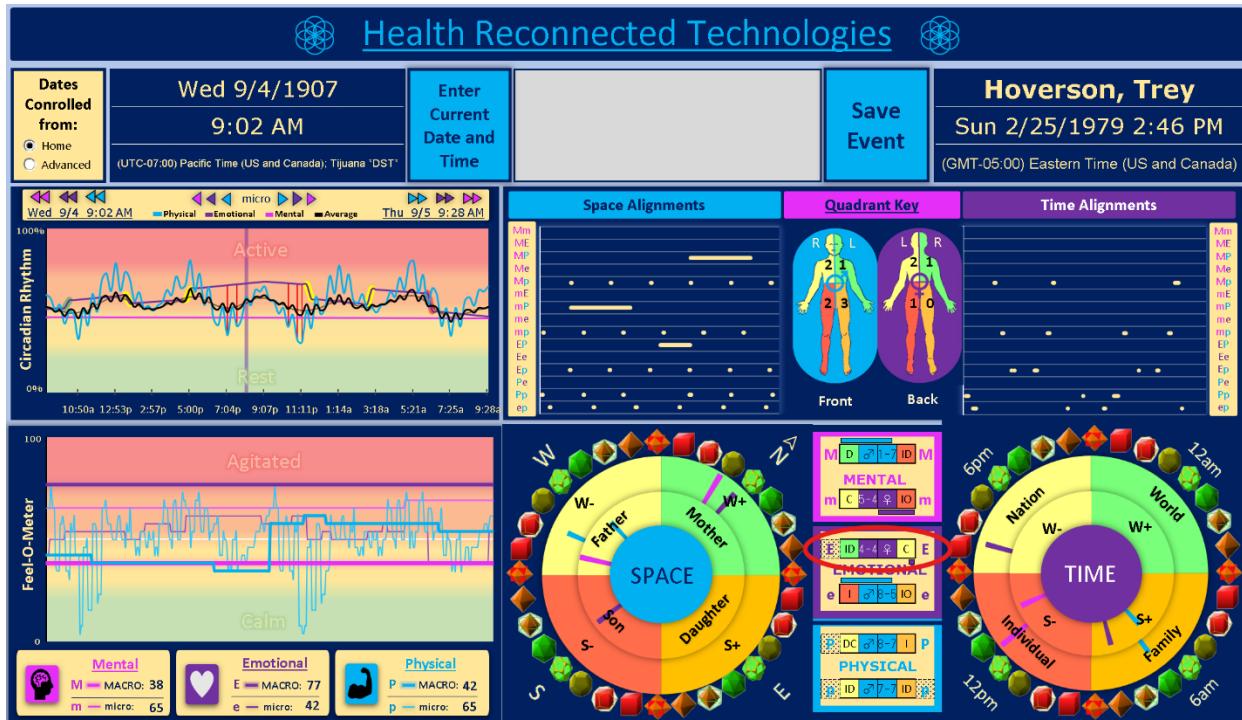

1906 Atlanta Race Riot

Electromagnetics

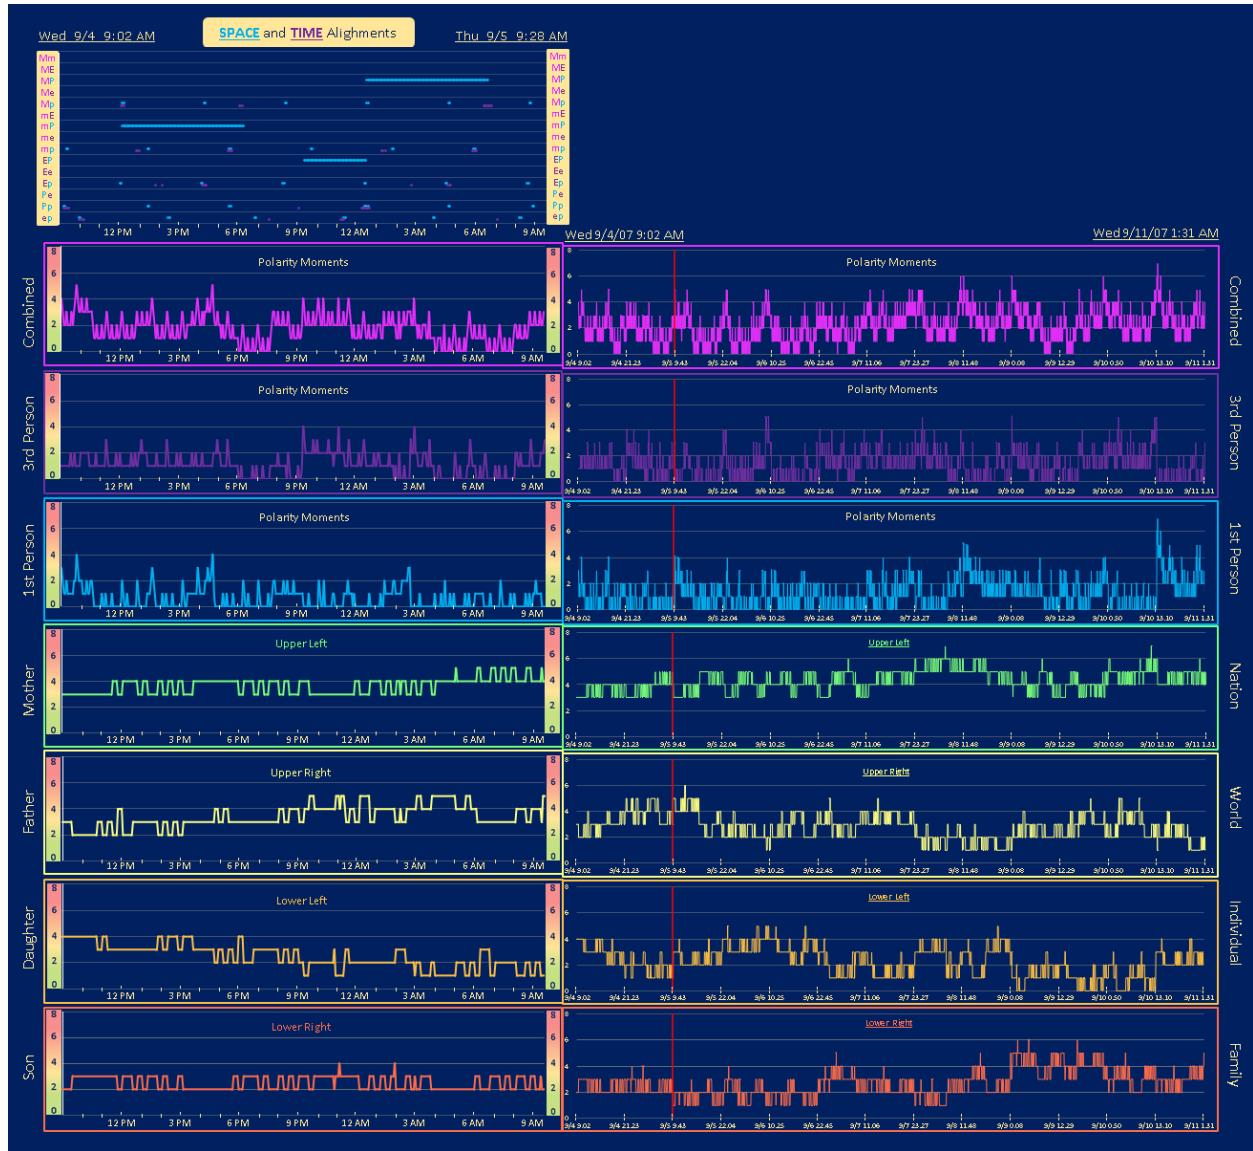

1907 Bellingham Race Riot

The Bellingham riots occurred on September 4, 1907, in Bellingham, Washington, United States.^[1] A mob of 400–500 white men, predominantly members of the Asiatic Exclusion League, with intentions to exclude Indian immigrants from the work force of the local lumber mills, attacked the homes of the South Asian Indians.^[2] The Indians were mostly Sikhs but were labelled as Hindus by much of the media of the day.^[3]

1907 Bellingham Race Riot

Electromagnetics

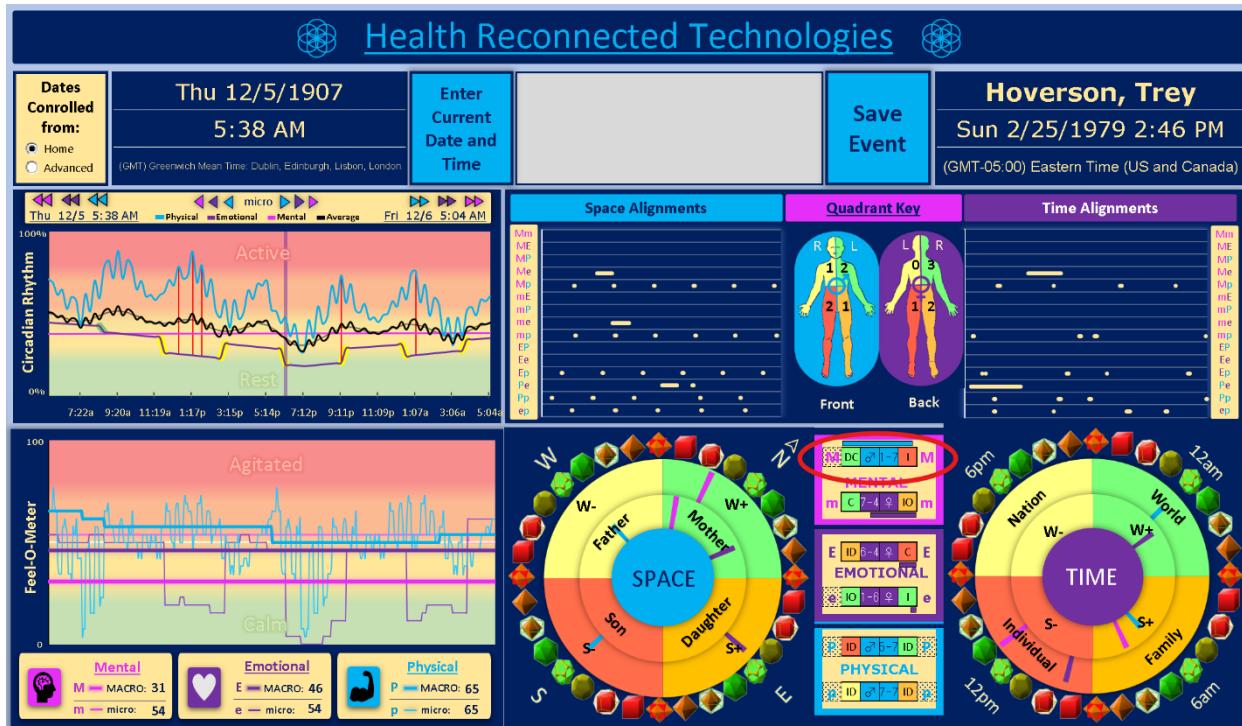

1907 Brown Dog Riots

Medical students at London's teaching hospitals were enraged by the plaque. The first action was on 20 November, when undergraduate William Howard Lister led a group of medical students across the Thames to Battersea to attack the statue with a crowbar and sledgehammer.

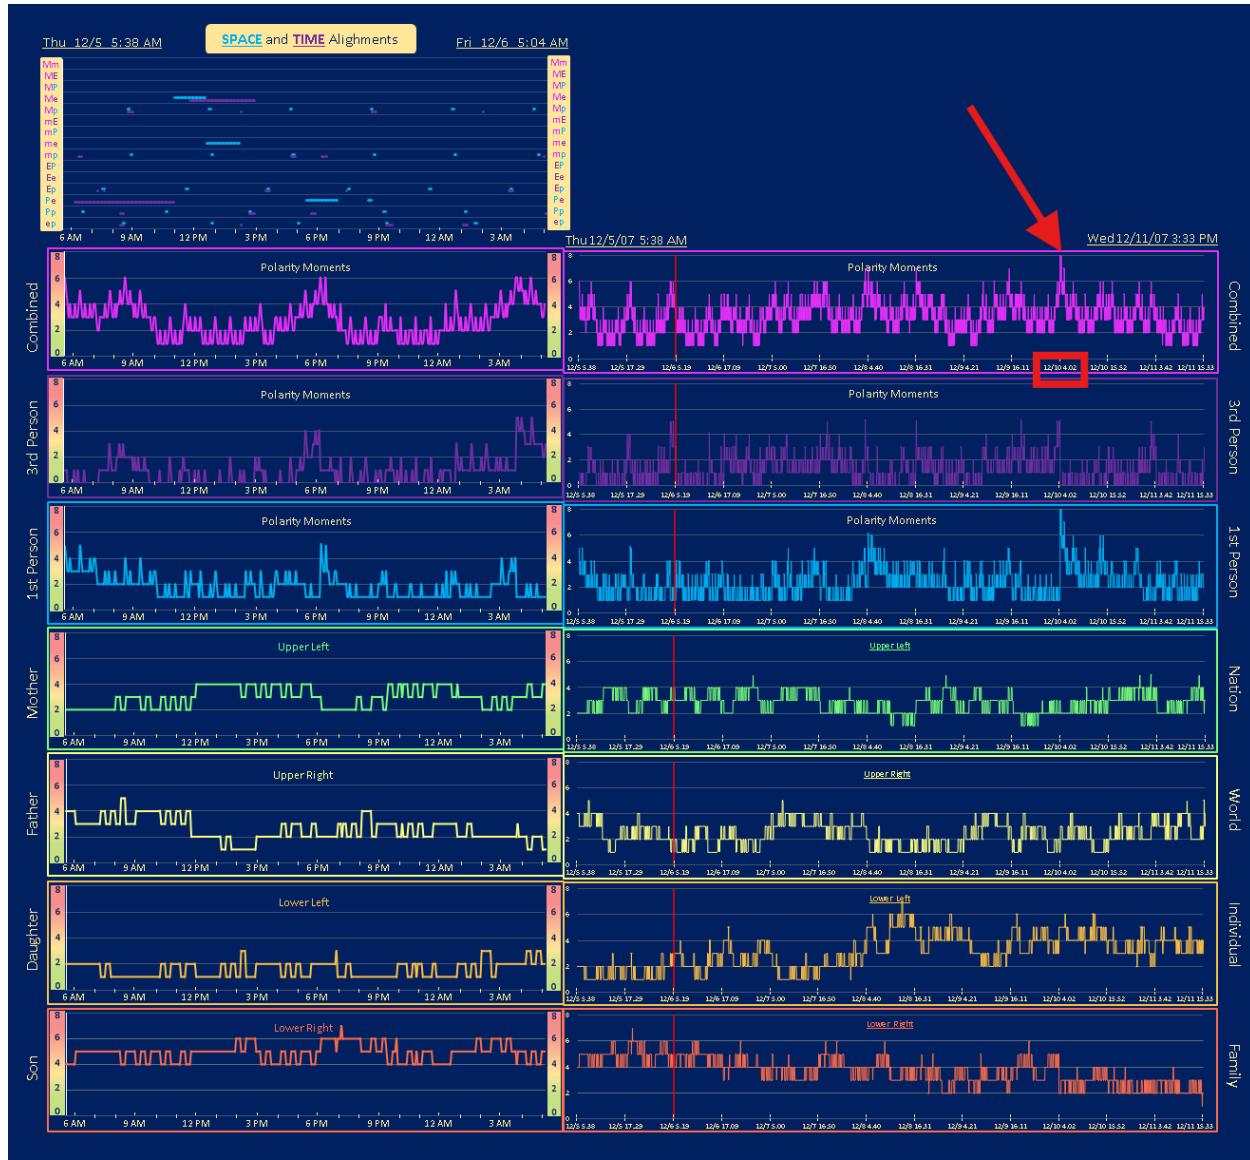

Women's suffrage meetings were invaded, although the students knew that not all suffragettes were anti-vivisectionists. A meeting organized by Millicent Fawcett on 5 December 1907 at the Paddington Baths Hall in Bayswater was left with chairs and tables smashed and one steward with a torn ear.

The rioting reached its height five days later, on Tuesday, 10 December, when 100 medical students tried to pull the memorial down.

1907 Brown Dog Riot

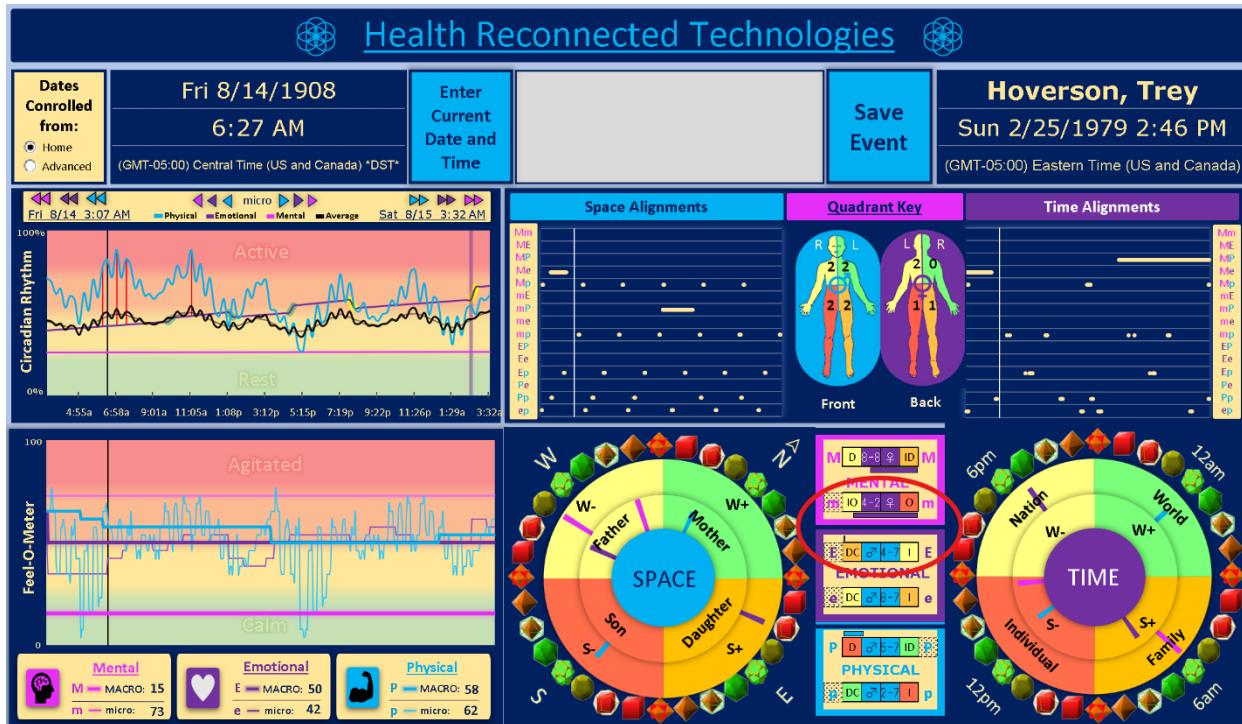

Electromagnetics

1908 Springfield Race Riot

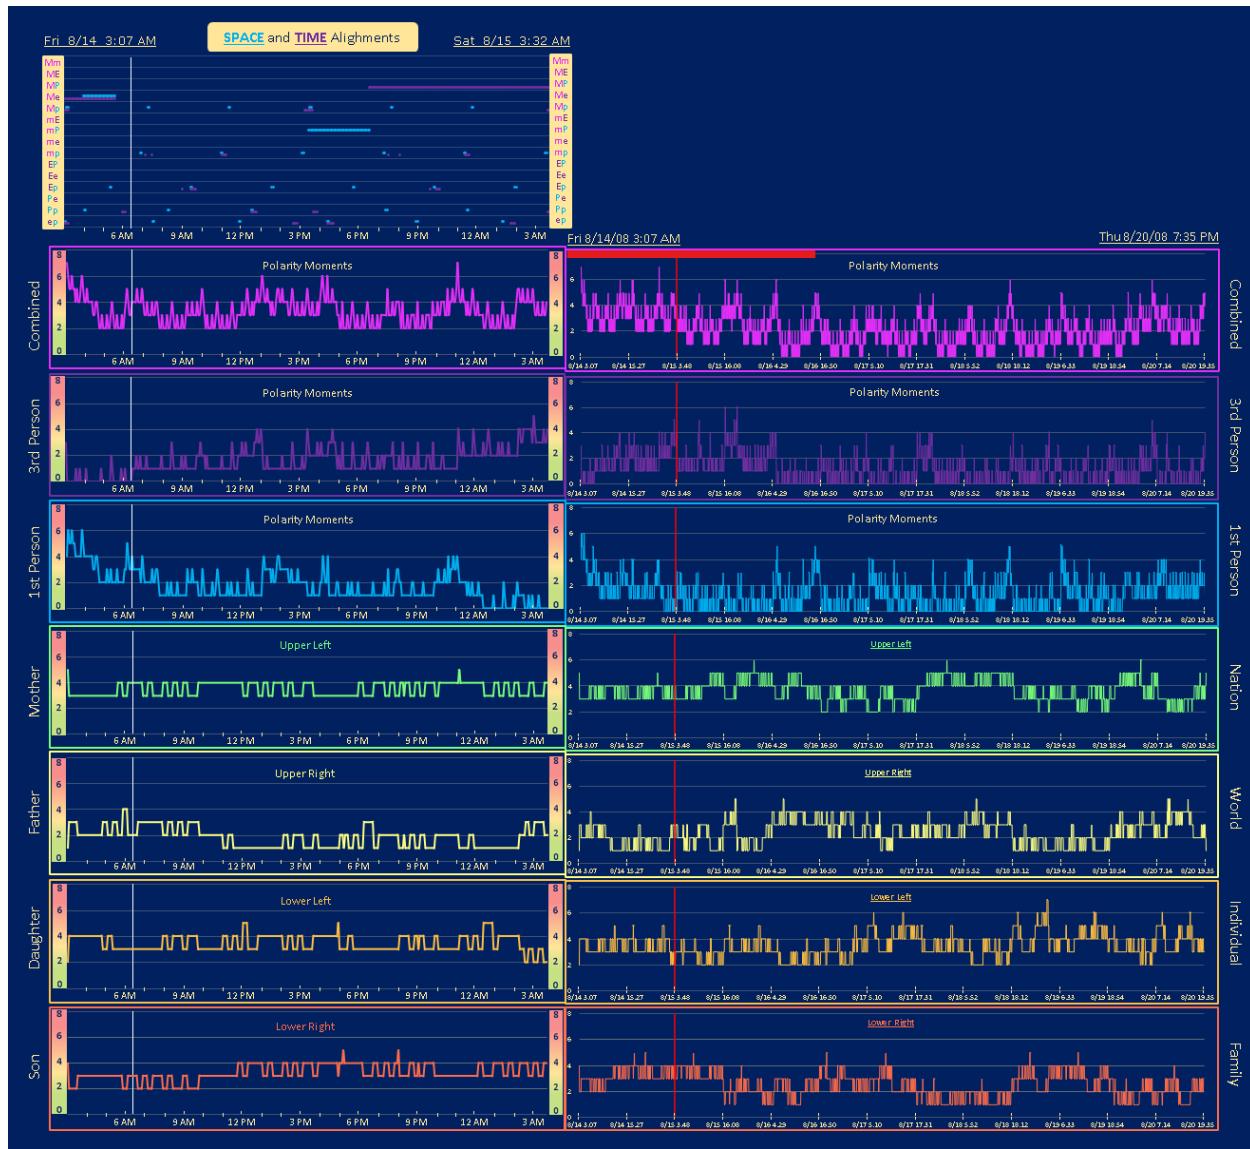

Location	Springfield, Illinois, US
Date	August 14–16, 1908
Target	Black residents

The Springfield race riot of 1908 consisted of events of mass racial violence committed against African Americans by a mob of about 5,000 white Americans and European immigrants in Springfield, Illinois, between August 14 and 16, 1908. Two black men had been arrested as suspects in a rape, and attempted rape and murder.

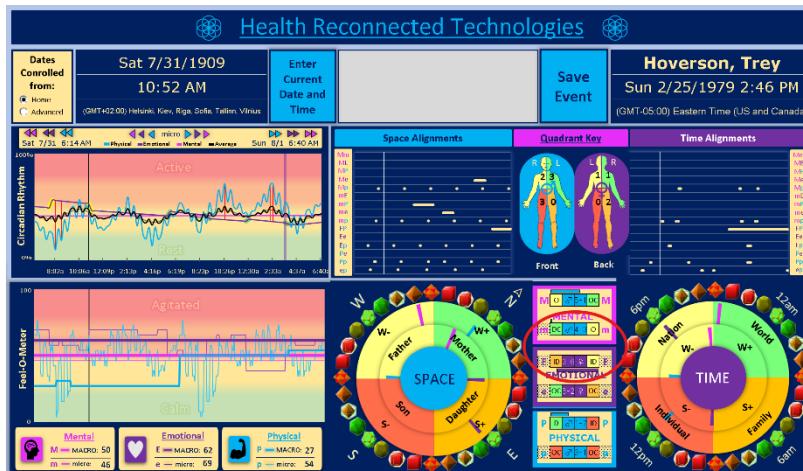

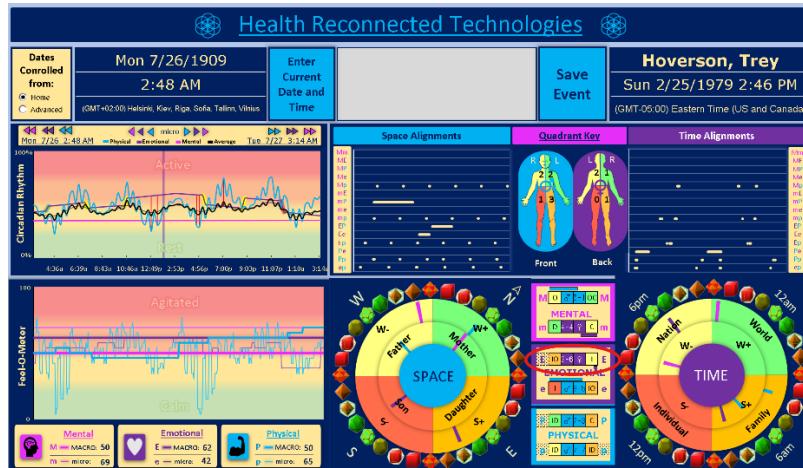

1908 Springfield Race Riot

Electromagnetics

1909 Tragic Week (Spain)

Date	26 July – 2 August 1909
Location	Barcelona
Caused by	Opposition to conscription and the Second Rif War Antimilitarism Anti-clericalism
Methods	Rioting, strikes, barricades, arson and murder

1909 Tragic Week (Spain)

Electromagnetics

