SPECIAL THANKS

I am very grateful to the Board of the Gaslight Theatre for the opportunity to bring this play to our stage. For the past several weeks I have worked with this cast and crew consisting of some skilled friends with whom I have appeared on this stage with previously as well as several talented and dedicated young people from the area schools, and I thank them all for their hard work on this production.

I am especially thankful to Stage Manager Steve Liberti, who designed the stage set and directed its construction, and to his lovely wife Sarah Liberti, whose help in the directing this show was invaluable.

Most importantly, all of us who worked on this production are grateful to you for purchasing tickets to spend a few hours with us this evening. It is the joy this play brings to an audience which makes all the work spent putting on this show worthwhile.

--Bill Matthys, Director
