

IMPREGNATION OF THE VIRGIN

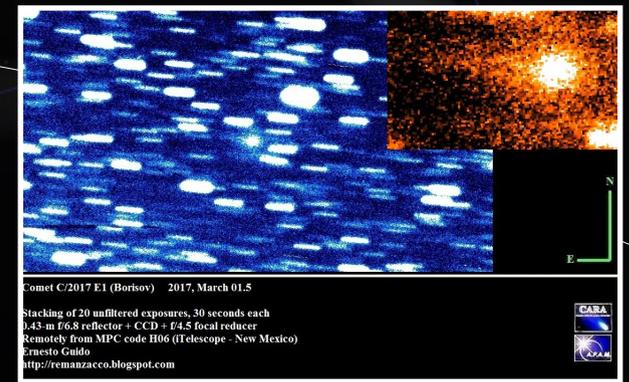

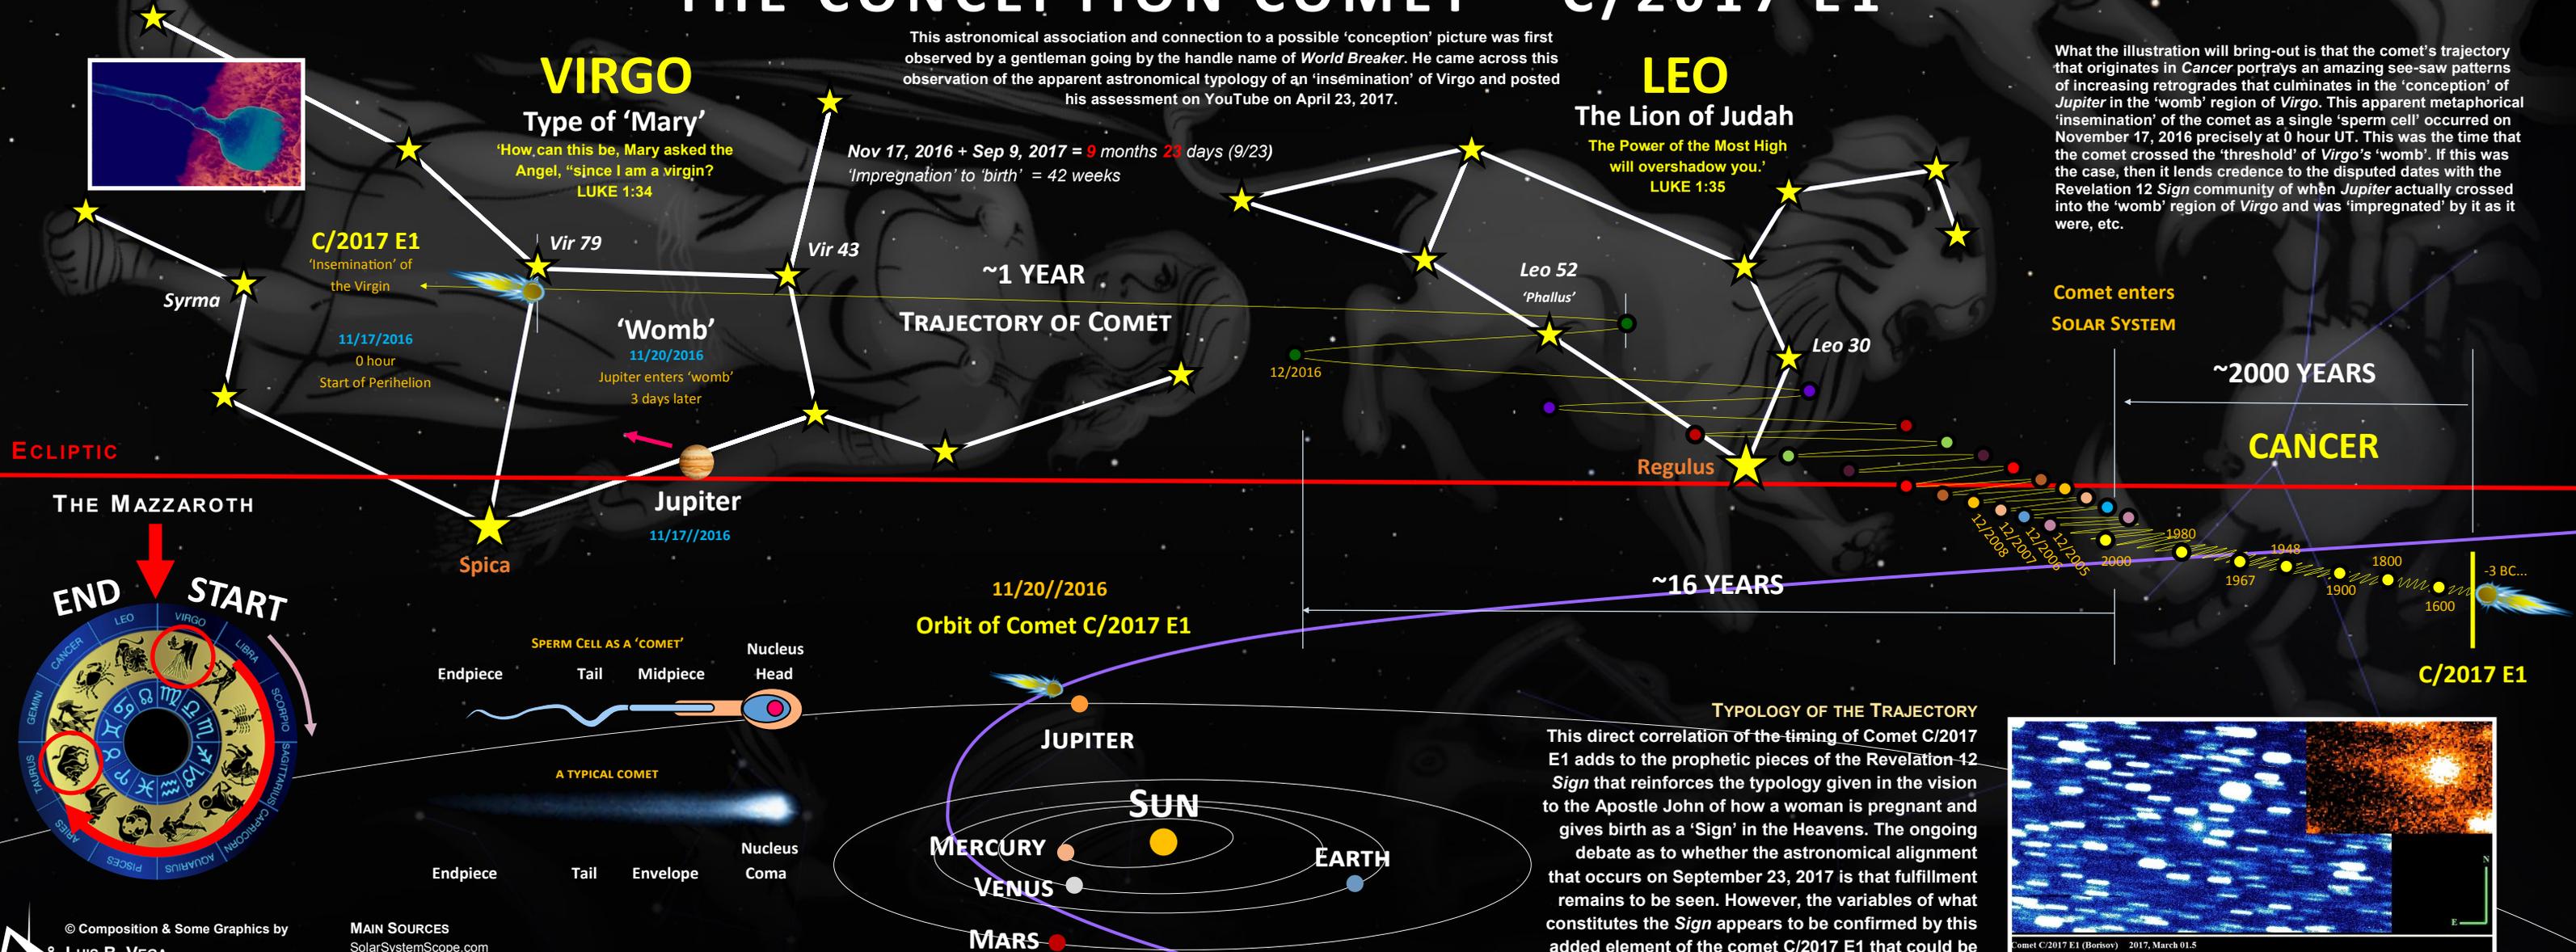

The purpose of this illustration is to illustrate the trajectory of the Borisov comet, C/2017 E1 with reference to a stunning 'visual significance' related to the Great Sign of Revelation 12 phenomenon. The path of this comet's trajectory appears to originate in the constellation of Cancer and has an apparent profound imagery as it traverses through Leo and Virgo in 2016. What is unique about this trajectory is where and when it occurs with respect to the Revelation 12 Sign depiction. This comet will be referenced as the 'Conception Comet' for various astronomical and anthropomorphic attributes that will be brought-out in the correlation to a typology of an 'insemination' of Virgo by this comet. The main point of the illustration will strongly suggest that the point of 'insemination' by this comet, as a metaphor of a single sperm cell, like a comet coincided with the movement of Jupiter into the 'womb'; of Jupiter 3 days later on November 20, 2016. Although the notion would seem absurd to some, the prophetic implications is highly suggested to be a contributing piece of the Revelation 12 Great Sign of Virgo 'picture'. The comet was first discovered by Gennadii Vladimirovich Borisov of Nauchnij, Crimea on March 1, 2017. The comet was designated C/2017 E1 (Borisov).

THE CONCEPTION COMET – C/2017 E1

This astronomical association and connection to a possible 'conception' picture was first observed by a gentleman going by the handle name of World Breaker. He came across this observation of the apparent astronomical typology of an 'insemination' of Virgo and posted his assessment on YouTube on April 23, 2017.

What the illustration will bring-out is that the comet's trajectory that originates in Cancer portrays an amazing see-saw patterns of increasing retrogrades that culminates in the 'conception' of Jupiter in the 'womb' region of Virgo. This apparent metaphorical 'insemination' of the comet as a single 'sperm cell' occurred on November 17, 2016 precisely at 0 hour UT. This was the time that the comet crossed the 'threshold' of Virgo's 'womb'. If this was the case, then it lends credence to the disputed dates with the Revelation 12 Sign community of when Jupiter actually crossed into the 'womb' region of Virgo and was 'impregnated' by it as it were, etc.

With such a possible motif, the following observations will hopefully enrich the 'picture' and lend credibility that in fact, such an astronomical depiction is part of the divine orchestration of the Great Sign of Heaven of Revelation 12 that is perhaps going down in history as being the greatest 'Sign' at least astronomically of the Church Age.

TYPOLGY OF THE TRAJECTORY

This direct correlation of the timing of Comet C/2017 E1 adds to the prophetic pieces of the Revelation 12 Sign that reinforces the typology given in the vision to the Apostle John of how a woman is pregnant and gives birth as a 'Sign' in the Heavens. The ongoing debate as to whether the astronomical alignment that occurs on September 23, 2017 is that fulfillment remains to be seen. However, the variables of what constitutes the Sign appears to be confirmed by this added element of the comet C/2017 E1 that could be inferred as the 'Conception Comet' that impregnated Virgo with Jupiter, the type of the 'Manchild' as described in Revelation 12.

With such a possible motif, the following observations will hopefully enrich the 'picture' and lend credibility that in fact, such an astronomical depiction is part of the divine orchestration of the Great Sign of Heaven of Revelation 12 that is perhaps going down in history as being the greatest 'Sign' at least astronomically of the Church Age.
