

Cheat Sheet for New Physician Advisors

Join American College of Physician Advisors - <https://www.acpadvisors.org/join>

Invaluable resources including articles, observation data, CDI resources, webinars, discussion groups, PA training modules, and the largest PA conference in the US. PA certification available. You can also consider membership in ACDIS, HFMA, NAHRI, and other professional organizations that meet your interests.

Join RAC Relief Google User group - <https://groups.google.com/forum/#!forum/rac-relief>

This is a 2,000+ member strong user group to discuss issues relevant to Physician Advisors. Many experts monitor and respond to questions, provide advice, share news. Some hospital IT systems do not allow Google Groups. If blocked, use personal email

Subscribe to RACmonitor.com eNews <https://racmonitor.medlearn.com/racmonitor-subscription/>

Weekly email with pertinent articles, also offers Monitor Monday webcast, paid webinars.

Subscribe to ICD10monitor.com <https://icd10monitor.medlearn.com/icd10monitor-subscription/>

Weekly email with pertinent articles, also offers Talk Ten Tuesday webcast, paid webinars.

Buy Dr. Hirsch's textbook for PAs <https://www.amazon.com/dp/B0GXWYCNNX>

A great resource written by one of the most respected PAs in the industry. Also browse the numerous resources on his webpage <https://www.ronaldhirsch.com/>

Subscribe to Report on Medicare Compliance <https://www.hcca-info.org/publications/newsletters/report-medicare-compliance>

Excellent resource to read about happenings in compliance – your compliance officer may already subscribe so ask to read theirs.

Sign up for LinkedIn and follow some other PAs and UR/CDI experts with similar interests

Sign up for the listservs for the Medicare Administrative Contractor and Quality Improvement Organization for your state.