

This is BREEDER #42 that we've found Heartland Pets in the Millcreek Mall using.

This "breeder" is NOT USDA LICENSED, meaning the breeder is held to absolutely no legal standards of quality or compassion for her breeding stock.

Heartland Pets can LEGALLY buy from and unlicensed breeder and sell the pup to you, as long as the "distributor" (also called a middle man – the person who picks up pups from breeders of any stature and resells them to pet stores), is licensed.

So when Heartland Pets says all our dogs come from USDA licensed breeders – are they telling the truth? With this loophole, we don't really know. We DO know that even USDA licensed breeders are held to really low standards – what if a breeder is held to no standards at all?
