

I WILL TRUST IN YOU

By John Lipinski

Now the past is gone and never coming back
And whatever happened, already happened
All that we have is now, and what will be, will be
And I will trust in you

As we look ahead, to what the new dawn brings
Feel the joy, a promise to be given
Trust me now, believe, that you can count on me
And I can count on you

I will trust in you, so you can trust in me
Build a bond, so strong, no one can put asunder
I'll believe in you, no matter what you do
And you'll believe in me, you'll never have to wonder

Stand beside me, now, forever, I will vow
Together we'll get through life's up and downs
Walking hand in hand, following His plan
And I will place my trust in you

You can like, you can date, you can love, you can hate
Without tomorrow, what good is today, no trust, it's a slippery surface
You will do, what you may, can I believe in what you say
Looking forward to another day, no trust, there is no purpose

I will trust in you, so you can trust in me
Build a bond, so strong, no one can put asunder
I'll believe in you, no matter what you do
And you'll believe in me, you'll never have to wonder

Now the past is gone and never coming back
And whatever happened, already happened
All that we have is now, and what will be, will be
And I will trust in you
And I can count on you
And I will place my trust in you
