ANASAZI's On The Road...

Rally narrative by Robbin & Jerry Schultz

The September Anasazi rally brought friends, guests and past members together for our first gathering since April. This turn-out was light on members due to summer travels... 'have coach will travel'. The weather was picture perfect and the choice to host it at the Encore Resorts, Venture Inn was great. A few arrived early to enjoy the cool mountain air. The rest came in on Thursday to par-take in happy hour and Hors-d'oeuvres. Friday morning was a delicious breakfast of Biscuits and Gravy. Friday night the group went to a local restaurant Buffalo Bills. Great food and atmosphere. Saturday morning all enjoyed the breakfast egg tortilla bar outdoors. Saturday evening, we set up our pulled pork dinner in one of many rooms available to us. There was a fun 60's music and TV show game where we found not much was remembered about the 60's. All gathered again for a pastries and fruit breakfast and good-byes before leaving Sunday to avoid the holiday week-end traffic. The group was small, but big on fun.

The Rally Hosts: De Selby, Wanda Wieters, Larry & Virginia Morrison, Robbin and Jerry Schultz

Happy Hour catching up with some friends: Harry & Susan, Paula and Oren and guests Jeanne & Clarence Kinsley

Some members were able to attend the Junction 87 concert Saturday evening (see Larry's shirt?)

One of the benefits, traveling with this seasoned group is the choice of parks and what we experience.

'Show Low' (the name) came from early day settlers Corydon E. Cooley and Marion Clark had been neighbors for a short time, living among the lush, green ponderosa forestland along Arizona's Mogollon Rim. The two became concerned about one encroaching on the others privacy. Whatever the reason Cooley and Clark agreed it was getting too crowded and one of the two parties had to move. The issue was to be settled, not by intimidation or gunplay, but with a deck of cards. The game, called Seven-up, where low card wins, was a favorite among frontiersmen. The game reached its climax when Clark said to Cooley as he dealt the last hand, "If you can show low, you win." At this point Cooley turned up the deuce of clubs and declared "Show Low it is." Marion Clark moved on down the road a piece and Cooley named the settlement that grew up near his ranch, "Show Low," in honor of the now-famous card game.

The town of Show Low offers wonderful restaurants and museum set up by a few town families. One day the residents realized they had quite the collection of old stuff. Needing a place to keep their unique items safe, they decided together to find a place to keep it. When the old police building in town became available they knew they had the perfect location.

Presidents Message

This has been a heartbreaking summer in some respects -- two of our members lost family members dear to their hearts. Barry Stallings lost his wife of many years and Jim and Marilyn Bannon lost their youngest daughter to a prolonged struggle with cancer. As we go into this new rally season, lets take a moment and reflect on our loved ones and how dear they are to us.

ANASAZI CHAPTER DUES

Some things cannot be measured. We do not think of a ton of truth, a bushel of beauty, or and inspiration a mile long. So it's impossible to measure the value of being an ANASAZI Chapter member! The best $15 you can spend...

It's that time of year when we have to pay the membership dues. For those that are attending the Rally in Cotton Lane, they can pay directly to Amy Jones. For those that will not be able to attend they can mail their checks -- made out to ANASAZI Chapter -- to Amy Jones. Her address is on page one of this newsletter.

From your editor

Attached you will find the latest Rally calendar for the remaining of 2018. If you haven't had a chance to attend your 3 rally's this year it a good time to review the calendar, and plan on attending some of the remaining events to keep your membership current.

It sounds like Betty and I missed a fun rally in the pines. Since she had her shoulder worked on, I have been trying to keep up with the very high bar John Matthews set taking care of MaryAnn while her shoulder heals. I think he just may be a better hair stylist than I...

Golf at Pebble Beach

A man retires after 35 years at the same job and decides to take his first retirement vacation in Hawaii with his wife. He is really looking forward to two weeks of sightseeing and golf.

The day they arrive, he signs up for pro golf lessons at the beautiful Pebble Beach Country Club.

After a night out with his wife, they wake refreshed and go out to the links. The man and his wife and the golf pro begin the course and they do rather well. After the sixth hole, they catch up to the party ahead of them and need to wait for them to finish the seventh before they can play it.

A tall man with a beard tees off and hits his ball right into the water. His companions all hit their tee shots into the fairway.

The retired man watches as the bearded man actually walks on to the water to find his ball. He can't believe his eyes.

To the golf pro, he blurts out, "Who does he think he is, Jesus Christ?"

The pro answers, "He is Jesus Christ. He thinks he's Tiger Woods."
