

The Majesty Of The Falls

I've wanted to see Niagara Falls since I was a child and heard about it in grammar school. As we arrived in Canada on Monday, October 22nd, I was well aware of the fact that the famous "Maid of the Mist" boat ride under Niagara Falls would end for the season on October 24th. We had left CT at am drove to New York, flew to Buffalo and then took a shuttle to the Embassy Suites. It was 3:45 pm and the concierge of the hotel said, "Leave your bags with me as there is not a minute to spare if you want to catch the last bus of the day to the Maid of the Mist. You can go now or tomorrow" he said! Fortunately I had seen that the prediction of weather was rain/cloudy for the next day. Therefore, we ran to the bus and off to the Maid of the Mist. As soon as we arrived, I walked to the rail to see the falls in full view. Then, as I prepared my camera to take a photo of the falls and the Maid of the Mist I was about to board, there appeared a rainbow, magnificent indeed, falling right down on to the boat — with the full view of the falls behind it! I snapped my I-phone and camera multiple times in sheer delight. We then boarded the boat, were given rain gear to put on and began the ride under the falls! I named this photo "The Majesty of The Falls", marvel at its incredible beauty and power and see Niagara Falls as a magnificent wonder. The gorgeous rainbow highlights the image in whatever meaning the rainbow has for you. Rainbows came into my life on January 1, 1982 and have delighted me ever since — in when and where they appear! Needless to say the next two days were so rainy and cloudy that you could barely see the falls. Yes, again I was blessed and now have the memory of yet another incredible experience and the beauty of The Majesty of The Falls to be an ongoing reminder.
