THE GILLIAN WHYLIE SCHOLARSHIP FUND: MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN THE LIVES OF HIGH SCHOOL AND UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Gillian Whylie, nee Lewis was born in Falmouth, Trelawny, Jamaica on November 10, 1963 to parents Horace and Cordella Lewis. She was the first of two daughters with sister, Donna arriving three years later. The family eventually moved to St. Catherine where Gillian attended St. Jago High School in 1974. Upon completing 'O' Levels at St. Jago High School, Gillian moved to Wolmer's High School for girls in Kingston in 1980 where she successfully completed her high school education ('A' levels). From Wolmer's, Gillian entered the Humanities program at the University of the West Indies (UWI) and studied German, Spanish and French while completing a bachelor's degree in mass communications at CARIMAC. She later completed the Diploma in Education in the teaching of Modern Languages. Gillian was also an integral member and a lead dancer of the UWI Dance Society.

In 1987, Gillian took up the challenge of teaching French and Spanish in the Bahamas at the William Grant High School and, while there, performed with the Bahamas National Dance Theatre. Many years after leaving the Bahamas, Gillian continued to correspond with a number of her students, calling them 'her daughters'. Such is the nature of this loving person. In August 1989, she was awarded an OAS Scholarship to pursue a short-term work study program for teachers of Spanish at the University of Salamanca, Spain.

Having spent 5 years in the Bahamas, Gillian came home to Jamaica in 1992 and she and Paul Whylie were married in 1995. In 2000, Paul was offered a job with the United Nations Environment Program in Geneva, Switzerland where the family lived until 2014 when the Whylie family returned to Jamaica.

After returning to Jamaica, Gillian taught French at Alpha Girls Academy. She was also elected President of Alliance Française de la Jamaïque, the international organization that aims to promote French language and culture around the world. Her dynamic and inclusive style endeared her to the international community and in no time, Gillian was fully involved and participating in events and the workings of the diplomatic community on the island.

On August 30, 2017 at age 53, Gillian tragically passed away after a brief illness. The Gillian Whylie Scholarship Fund is a charity established in her name to continue the legacy of kindness and support to those in need.

The Gillian Whylie Scholarship Fund (GWSF) is a duly registered charity organization, established to promote the education and vocational training of Jamaican students with special emphasis on students pursuing studies in Modern Languages. The Fund is meant to continue the legacy of Gillian Whylie, who lived her life in support of advancing the learning and use of modern languages. In specific terms, the Fund will provide financial assistance by awarding scholarships, bursaries or maintenance and travel allowances or otherwise to further the education and training of students at any educational institution approved by the Fund.

Each year, based on available funds, the GWSF provides scholarships to selected students based on set criteria to pursue courses in Modern Languages and preferably in French at the upper level of St. Jago High School (alma mater of Gillian Whylie) and to the University of the West Indies to undertake a bachelor's degree.

This is the fourth year that the GWSF has awarded scholarships. The last awardee, Sareka Crawford, has now received a scholarship to study languages at the University of Bordeaux in France and was shortlisted for the Prime Minister's National Youth Award in Academics in 2020.

The Gillian Whylie Scholarships for the 2021-22 academic year.

Zori Blake, with her proud father Colin

Zori Blake of DeCarteret College received a scholarship valued at $200,000 to support her first-year studies in Modern Languages at the University of the West Indies. Blake has excelled at languages and finished 2nd and 3rd in the Caribbean in the CAPE examinations in Spanish and French, respectively. The Godfrey Lands resident in Mandeville quoted Confucius: “Choose a job you love, and you will never have to work a day in your life”. “These words encapsulate my experience in studying foreign languages. For me, they are not work, but a passion.” the confident young lady remarked.

De Marley Cohen of St. Jago High School and Tiana-Lee Gray of Wolmer’s High School for Girls, both received a scholarship valued at $150,000 to support their studies toward completing the CAPE matriculation over the two-year program.

De Marley Cohen was singled out as the ‘Most Congenial’ student at St. Jago in 2019. His father is a deliveryman and financing his plan to do CAPE was always going to be difficult. However, his performance at languages and his exceptional work in co-curricular activities at the school make him a worthy candidate to cop the scholarship this year.

Tiana-Lee Gray is the first recipient of a scholarship from Wolmer’s High School for Girls. She has shown exceptional debating skills, strong leadership qualities and a determination to succeed. The resident of Fletchers Land in the inner city of Kingston is destined for greatness. She says, “I am a firm believer of the statement: ‘Your environment should not dictate your future.’ I use my environment as motivation, rather than a barrier to my inevitable success”.

The GWSF is excited to provide support for these exemplary students. Only time will tell but these three young adults are worth monitoring as they will certainly make a positive impact on Jamaica in the future. We wish them well as they set out to achieve their dreams.

KINGSTON COLLEGE ATHLETES TO RIDE IN STYLE FOLLOWING ACQUISITION OF NEW BUS

Jamaica Observer

Kingston College Principal Dave Myrie (left) looks on as Board Chairman Michael Vacciana cuts the ribbons

KINGSTON College (KC) received a boost to their transportation fleet with the acquisition of a sparkling new 26-seater bus, just before the expected resumption of high school sports this semester. Schoolboy football is set to resume next month, according to the Inter-secondary Schools Sports Association (ISSA), so the bus could not have come at a better time for the school.

Speaking at the dedication of the bus at Cloverly Park, 2A North Street recently, chairman of the board Michael Vacciana thanked the old boys who had contributed to the purchase of the bus valued at just over $10m.

“I want to say thanks to the donors who have contributed to the purchase of this well-appointed bus and who have made this event possible. I believe that this gift is significant in many ways, and it will be significant to people in different ways.”

Vacciana shared what the acquisition of the bus will mean to the Kingston College family.

- “There are three things I want to mention...this is an excellent demonstration of the spirit of generosity, community and loyalty that I believe was instilled in all of us who have passed through this institution. It is a part of the vision of our founding headmaster, Bishop Gibson, and it is being realised every day of life.
- “The second thing I want to mention is that it conveys an image of success which is consistent with the many milestones that Kingston College has achieved over its 96 years.
- “This is a part of our mission: that we must educate young men, and to put them in society to make a contribution to society, and that success has shown itself in so many different ways — and I think that the visibility that this bus provides is one way of showing success. This is an example of old boys giving back to their alma mater.”

The chairman expressed hope that the arrival of the bus will lead to more contributions to the school by other members of the KC fraternity.

“It is my hope that every time a KC old boy sees this bus he will be motivated and encouraged to make a contribution to the school — whether it is his time and talent, or a financial one. It is an image that portrays what can happen when people get together to make a contribution.”

KC Principal Dave Myrie disclosed that the acquisition time for securing the bus, from concept to delivery, was the fastest fund-raising effort he had presided over since taking charge of the all-boy institution.

- “It is the second bus I have had the pleasure of dedicating since being the principal at Kingston College. I remember the boys saying to me the first time, the “phantom bus” has arrived because they heard about this bus for so many years and couldn’t see the bus, and they saw a bus and said the phantom bus has arrived.
- “The acquisition of this bus may have been the fastest fund-raising event that I have ever experienced since being at Kingston College in terms of space of time of getting this thing done.”

Myrie noted that only a select few old boys were contacted to raise funds to purchase the bus, and he thanked them for responding to the call.

“To all the donors, we really, really appreciate your input. Your commitment to KC is obvious...and countless students will talk about this and talk about how our old boy fraternity responds every time we need help.”

The list of donors includes Denis Cohen, Timothy Scarlet, Howard Lau, Urvin Banks, Donovan Germain, Chris Chin (VP Records), Darren Moore, Everton Gardener, Dean Nevers, Earl Powell, Kirk Scott, Rick Case, Ryan Reid, Steve Dunn, Clinton Daley, KCOBA New York and KCOBA Florida.
