Mimi McCallum Demos her New Style!

Mimi McCallum was energetic and fun as she illustrated for all of us how her style has changed over time to include these interesting and abstract blocking techniques in oils and cold wax. Her new style is easily created on wood block or canvas. She also showed us how she can then put watercolor paper over a completed piece on wood and with a brayer and a little pressure, she can create a beautiful print also.

Election of New PCAA Board Officers

It's that time again. Time to think about the new PCAA officers and what direction you'd like to see our organization go in the next two years. Per our bylaws current President, Pat Jayne has appointed a Nominating Committee Chairperson, Betty Brain. So get your nominations and ideas to Betty soon, who will bring a new slate of officers to our membership for a vote in our March meeting. Please consider serving a term on the board to help us all be the best possible organization we can be.

Only Through An Eye of An Artist

It was noted in the parking lot last Wednesday, as our artists volunteered to help Mimi McCallum load in her paintings for her demo, that some of the artists were color-coded to match the specific painting that they grabbed. It is true an artist will always take note of such things!! These helping artists were as bright, colorful and beautiful as Mimi's art work!

Remember You Can Exhibit Your Artwork at Reubens

PCAA maintains an ongoing partnership with Reubens Breakfast and Lunch in Palm City. That partnership provides the opportunity for you to exhibit and sell your artwork there. For more information on how to exhibit at Reubens on Martin Downs Blvd, please contact Toby Hohenstein at 860.941.8515 or via email at tobygeo@Gmail.com. Toby & the Reubens Committee will be happy to help get you started! Thank you!

Fun Opportunities to Get Involved

There are so many fun opportunities with PCAA for you to get involved in our organization & you'll find it so fulfilling!

Perhaps you're a new member or you worry you'll need or want help. Now is the perfect time to volunteer. Let us help you, to help us. If you're willing, please volunteer and work along side others who need your support.

There are committees for a myriad of fun projects and we can benefit from your assistance. How about helping with the demo program for next year?, or with the planning of the Holiday luncheon?, or the art show or nominating committee?

There are so many fun things for you to do and it is such a great way to get to know more of the wonderful artists in our membership. So please contact this year's Nominating Committee Chairperson, Betty Brain at 772.285.9073 and volunteer your time & expertise. We can't wait to hear from you.

Visit our PCAA website at: PalmCityArtAssociates.org and please remember to friend us on Facebook.
