A receipt will be issued for submittal to your insurance company.

Understanding The Difference

There seems to be a common misunderstanding when it comes to the difference between the Village of Innsbrook and Innsbrook Estates. The most popular question is, "So, what exactly does the Village do?" Hopefully the following will clarify the differences between the two.

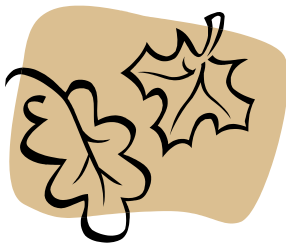

A Municipality is a governing body of such a district or community. The Village of Innsbrook is a Municipality, an incorporated political subdivision of the state of Missouri that is composed of the citizens of Innsbrook and which performs certain state functions on a local level and possesses such powers as are conferred upon it by the state. The Village of Innsbrook was incorporated by the Warren County Commission in July of 1998, after more than two-thirds of the taxable inhabitants of Innsbrook signed a petition seeking the corporation of the Village. Trustees were then put into place to look out for the best interest of all residents of the Village. The Board of Trustees consist of five members that are elected by the inhabitants of the Village each April, and each serve a two year term. Board of Trustee meetings are held each month at which time the Trustees shall have the power to pass bylaws and ordinances; license, tax and regulate merchants; levy taxes upon property; as well as all other rules and regulations stated under Chapter 80 of the Missouri Revised Statutes designed for the entire Village. The Village operates from revenues collected from fuel/vehicle tax, sales tax, real estate tax and fees derived from permits, annexations, subdivision plats and rezoning within the Village. The Village does not own its own utilities (Sewer, Water, Gas). The Village of Innsbrook protects residents from future growth and annexation from neighboring Municipalities. It is the policy of the Village of Innsbrook to operate with full transparency and the public is always welcome to attend all open meetings and events the Village of Innsbrook holds.

Environmental Concerns

What is the difference between environmental concerns and environmental emergencies? An environmental concern is a situation that you believe threatens the environment, such as a trash dump or discarded waste tires in a stream. An environmental emergency poses an immediate threat to the public health or the well-being of the environment. Examples of environmental emergencies include:

- Oil and chemical leaks or spills
- Radiological and biological discharges
- Accidents causing releases of pollutants
- Fish kills
- Hazardous material incidents

If you are involved in or witness an environmental emergency, please call the Missouri Department of Natural Resources at 573-634-2436. To report an environmental concern over the phone, please contact the St. Louis Regional Office, Dorothy Franklin, Director, at 314-416-2960. You may also call 800-361-4827 Monday through Friday between 8am and 5pm.

Vacancy on Planning and Zoning Commission

After 17 years on the Planning and Zoning Commission, Mr. Robert Soderholm has decided to step down from Chairman of the Commission. Mr. Soderholm was sworn in as a Commission member on May 3, 2000 and voted as Chairman of the Commission on May 2, 2007, a position he kept until his resignation on July 31, 2017. During Mr. Soderholm's tenure on the Planning and Zoning Commission, the Village of Innsbrook has adopted, and kept up to date, the Comprehensive Plan and Zoning Regulations. Which have protected the property values and provided orderly growth of the Community of Innsbrook. The Village of Innsbrook would like to thank Mr. Robert Soderholm for his time and dedication to the Planning and Zoning Commission. His expertise and drive will be undoubtedly missed by the Commission.

With Mr. Soderholm's resignation, a position is now vacant on the Planning and Zoning Commission. This term expires in May 2020. The Planning and Zoning Commission meets on the first Wednesday of each month at 5pm, depending on business to be conducted. If you are interested in this opportunity to serve the Community of Innsbrook, please contact the Village Administrator during regular buisness hours.

DIFFERENCE

Innsbrook Estates is a private subdivision, a portion of land divided into lots for real-estate development. Innsbrook Estates is located within the Municipality's incorporated Village limits, or City limits. There are approximately thirty homes located inside the Village limits and outside of the subdivision boundaries. Innsbrook Estates includes privately owned amenities and facilities that the general public does not have access to, and also has its own restrictions, assessments and bylaws which apply only to property owners inside the subdivision that are administered by the Innsbrook Estates Property Owners Association (IEPOA). The Innsbrook Corporation is the developer of the Innsbrook Estates Subdivision. Innsbrook Corporation provides a central sewerage system for condominium units, residential homes and certain chalets. This system is regulated by the Missouri Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the operating permit for such system is held exclusively by Innsbrook Corporation. Septic tanks or aeration tanks for the remainder of the chalets are regulated by the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) and are the responsibility of the property owner.

In conclusion, the Village of Innsbrook and the Innsbrook Estates Subdivision have their differences, but both are part of the same community. A community all residents adore, take pride in and want to preserve for the future. The Village of Innsbrook as well as Innsbrook Estates, Innsbrook Corporation and Innsbrook Estates Property Owners Association each have their own functions to keep the community growing and moving forward. Working together in a joint effort the Innsbrook community is certain to stay in harmony with nature for many years to come.
