

I Found a Baby Mammal What Should I Do?

The best care for a baby mammal comes from its parents. If a parent is around the baby needs to stay even if there are predators around.

Baby Rabbits and Fawns
It is natural behavior for a mother deer or rabbit to leave their baby for long periods of the day while they forage. Leave the baby where you find it for 24 hours and then check for a full belly. The mother will not return if you are in sight. You must leave the baby completely alone. Do not check on it throughout the day. Call SCWR with any questions or concerns 526-WILD

It is illegal for anyone without a permit to care for wildlife even if the intention is to release it.
*Do the right thing and call a professional
526-WILD(9453)*