The Catholic Doctrine of Creation

Fr. Gregory, from the Western Dominican Province, has been a familiar face at Holy Family Cathedral for many years during his summer recess from his teaching schedule. He is a New Testament scripture scholar with a specialty in St. Paul. Currently teaching at the Angelicum in Rome, he previously taught for twelve years at L'Ecole Biblique in Jerusalem.

Sacred Scripture is the Soul of Theology – Wednesday, August 7, 7 PM

Vatican II: Dei Verbum, 24.

'Sacred theology rests on the written word of God, together with sacred tradition, as its primary and perpetual foundation. By scrutinizing in the light of faith all truth stored up in the mystery of Christ, theology is most powerfully strengthened and constantly rejuvenated by that word. For the Sacred Scriptures contain the word of God and since they are inspired, really are the word of God; and so the study of the sacred page is, as it were, the soul of sacred theology. (3) By the same word of Scripture the ministry of the word also, that is, pastoral preaching, catechetics and all Christian instruction, in which the liturgical homily must hold the foremost place, is nourished in a healthy way and flourishes in a holy way.'

What's up with St. Paul and sex? – Wednesday, August 14, 7 PM

Many today, after the so-called "Sexual Revolution," find St. Paul's moral doctrine on matters of chastity and sexual sins perplexing. By examining what Paul dictated in its cultural context, we can find its inner coherence as the Word of God.

Heaven or Hell? – Wednesday, August 21, 7 PM

The Church's teachings on the Final Judgment are more necessary and salutary than ever and require careful reflection.

The Catholic Doctrine of Creation – Wednesday, September 4, 7 PM

Arguments about creation in popular culture are rampant . . . and seriously miss the point.
