FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
9 A.M. EDT, December 1, 2009

The Haitian American Professionals Coalition (HAPC) will be celebrating its Annual Holiday Fundraising Cocktail Reception on December 12, 2009 (7:00 pm –11:00pm), which will be held at the Little Haiti Cultural Center, 260 NE 59th Terrace, Miami, Florida 33137. HAPC is a U.S.-based, volunteer non-profit (501c3) organization that has been in existence since 2001. Currently the core members associations of HAPC are:

Haitian Lawyers Association (HLA)
Haitian American Nurses Association of Florida (HANAF)
Association of Haitian Educators of Dade (AHED)
Association of Haitian Social Workers (AHSW)
Haitian American Engineers and Scientists (HAES)
Haitian American Center for Economic and Public Affairs (HACEPA)
Haitian American Law Enforcement Fraternal Organization (HALEFO)
Haitian American Chamber of Commerce of Florida (HACCOF)
Association of Exchange and Development of Activities and Partnership (AEDAP)
Caribbean American Visual Cultural Preservation (CAVCP)

The main goal of HAPC is to build a strong platform to advocate, develop and implement effective interventions and policies that address major gaps and disparities in health, legal, academic, political and socio-economic issues which affect Haitians locally, nationally and internationally.

Join a celebration of achievements and commitment to our community. Under the stars that light the sky of Haiti and South Florida, we will drink, dance, laugh and most importantly, rekindle the faith in the betterment of the Haitian American Community.

We invite the South Florida community to celebrate with us the great strides that the Haitian Community has made this year. Located on the beautiful, newly built Haitian Cultural Campus in Little Haiti, Miami, the cocktail event will include live music from Xtazz Band, an art exhibit entitled Global Caribbean created by Edouard Duval-Carrie, Haitian hors-d'oeuvres, a cash bar and the raffle of two airline tickets as well as two nights at a hotel. It is sure to be a night of color, style and pride. We look forward to seeing you. Please visit us on FaceBook or at www.HAPCoalition.Org for RSVP or to make a donation.
