CAREER ENRICHMENT

LAW AND LEGAL SYSTEMS JOURNEY

The compelling beauty of Tanzania beckons travelers from around the world. More than 132 distinct ethnic groups peacefully coexist in this diverse East African country that has remained an oasis from the political upheaval of neighboring countries. Tanzania is home to stunning Mount Kilimanjaro and Mount Meru, as well as the famous Serengeti National Park among others.

Program Highlights

- Stay in a tented lodge near Ngorongoro Crater and take part in two days of game driving with your safari guide. It's the optimal timing for prime game viewing so be ready with your camera!
- Accompanying guest program available on this itinerary.
- An optional Serengeti pre-program exploration will be available.

Professional Interaction

- Meaningful interaction and collaboration with your counterparts in Tanzania, such as representatives from the East Africa Court of Justice, will focus on gaining knowledge of their system of law, methods of legal education, and other topics of mutual interest.
- Interact with your professional counterparts and discuss issues of common interest including environmental issues, dispute resolution and the treatment of inheritance rights for women.

Focus on the Community

- Spend time at the School of St. Jude, a non-governmental organization (NGO) providing educational services to the disadvantaged children of Arusha. Take part in various school activities including a visit with older students looking into a career path in law and justice. You will also have a unique opportunity to ride the school buses home with students.
- Visit a local organization that trains the physically and mentally disabled to learn various vocational and craft skills. Enjoy a chance to visit their workshop and perhaps even buy a craft item to show your support.
- Enjoy a fun barbecue dinner with some locals! Relax over good food and learn firsthand about life in Arusha.

Program Leaders: Camille deJorna & Eileen Kaufman

Camille is Deputy for Legal and Global Higher Education at the Law School Admission Council. Prior to her current position, she was associate deputy managing director of the Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar at the American Bar Association, where she focused primarily on law school accreditation activities. In this role, she managed the law school site-visit process, including the recruiting, assigning, and training of volunteers.

Eileen is Professor Emerita at Touro Law School, having served as their Vice Dean from 1996-2000. She was the founding director of Touro's summer law program in India and served as co-director of Touro's summer law program in Israel. She served as Co-President of the Society of American Law Teachers, and chairperson of the Bar Admission and Lawyer Performance Committee of the American Association of Law Schools.
