

Accelerated Freefall Progression

Having completed an AFF training course and first jump (level 1), it is possible to continue jumping and to gain a licence after a minimum of eighteen jumps. Progression jumps are as follows.

Two jumps with two instructors demonstrating awareness and control from 12,000 feet (levels 2 and 3)

Two jumps with one instructor demonstrating turns from 12,000 feet (levels 4 and 5)

Two jumps with one instructor demonstrating back loops, tracking and turns from 12,000 feet (levels 6 and 7)

One solo jump deploying your parachute within ten seconds of exit from 5,000 feet (level 8)

Nine solo jumps consolidating your skills from 12,000 feet (consolidation jumps)

One qualifying jump from 8,000 feet (consolidation jump)

Breakdown of Costs	Skydive Headcorn Training	Headcorn Parachute Club Flight only ticket	Total
Training and first jump with two instructors (level 1)	£260	£135	£395
Jumps with two instructors (levels 2 and 3)	£130	£135	£265
Repeating a jump with two instructors	£ 50	£135	£185
Jumps with one instructor (levels 4 to 7)	£ 60	£ 90	£150
Repeating a jump with one instructor	£ 30	£ 90	£120
Solo jumps	£ 5	£ 45	£ 50
Full BPA membership (mandatory before second jump)	£90
Altimeter (can be loaned for the first few jumps)	£120
Log Book	£10

The actual cost of training will depend on your ability. The progression system detailed above is the minimum. We cannot move you from one stage to the next until you have demonstrated the required skills. The average person qualifies in 21 jumps.

Package Deal for Levels 2 to 8

If, having completed your first jump (level 1), you pay £1,180 for the next seven levels, we will include the cost of BPA membership, log book and altimeter, thereby saving you £220.

Cost of Qualifying for a BPA 'A' Licence

Assuming you qualify in the minimum number of jumps, the total cost will be £2075.