

Good morning!

This is a definite 3-person clip/situation today. In our pregame conference, we should be discussing a potential press and C not 'bailing out' but staying up to help on the press. In addition, C would move up the floor and has a 'cone' of responsibility the entire way across the court. C could potentially have a whistle for something on the opposite side of the court and also a potential backcourt violation.

Take a look at a great example of C doing exactly this in a clip here.

On the made goal, C did not bail on the press and was ready for what happened on the steal at midcourt. He had a great look at the feet and line and was able to get the call. Neither of his partners could have seen what happened on this play. Great get and being in position for this by the C!

Monday extra: When in the stands, as officials we should not be yelling at the officials on the game, no matter what! Set a good example by supporting the teams and not yelling at the officials!

Have a great game tonight!
